Senate Expected to Pass $6.19 Billion Housing Bill Today

Backers Predict Defeat of All Proposed Major Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate administration forces predicted today they would be able to beat off all attacks on the $6.19 billion housing bill after victories in initial tests.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the measure, said it now was over the hump. He forecast final passage this afternoon without substantial change.

3 Amendments Lost
The Senate finally got around to voting on major amendments Wednesday, the fourth day of debate. It turned down three proposed important Republican changes on mostly party-line divisions.

Several more amendments were pending, but Sparkman said he believed a voting pattern had been established.

Wednesday's key roll call was on an attempt by Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., to knock out of the bill one section of the new moderate income family housing program advanced by the administration.

50 to 41 Vote
This was beaten 50 to 41. Sparkman said he believed this would be the bill's closest call.

The section would authorize below-market-rate government loans with interest as low as 3 1/2 percent, to non-profit groups to build rental apartments for families in the $4,000-$6,000 income bracket.

Capehart also tried to whittle down another major feature of the bill—a broadening of the home loan improvement program.

As originally proposed, loans would permit FHA-insured loans to be made up to $10,000 with repayment over 25 years. Present limits are $3,500 and five years.

Capehart sought to cut these to $7,000 and 15 years, but his amendment went down 56 to 35. Then Sparkman accepted a compromise.

Rocket Belt Lets Man Conquer Air

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A practical, working rocket belt, torn from the pages of science-fiction, has made a reality of mankind's age-old dream of flying with the birds.

A twist of a throttle, a turn of a lever, and man leaps from the ground, his own personal rocket belt strapped to his back. He hovers in the air, he flies over rivers, he flits up a hill that would leave him breathless to climb.

His support is a twin-nozzle thrust of hydrogen peroxide steam.

All this was revealed today by Bell Aerosystems Co., which developed the belt—called a Small Rocket Lift Device—for the Army Transportation Research Command.

Long Jumps Demonstrated

Photos of a test engineer, Harold M. Graham, in personal flight with the man-rocket showed him easily leaping a fire truck, handily swirling up a hill, casually jumping a stream.

In 30 successful test flights this spring, Bell said, Graham achieved a speed of about 20 miles an hour. His longest horizontal flight was 360 feet. He did not try for any great altitude, but the belt carried him up a steep, 30-foot-high hill with ease.

Bell has held the Army development contract since last summer, but Wendell F. Moore, director of Bell's man-rocket research program, has been dabbling with the idea since 1954.

"The current device is strictly a feasibility model designed to prove that lightweight rocket power can lift a man and transport him over the ground in controlled flight," said Moore.

How Belt Works

The rocket belt is powered by hydrogen peroxide. When forced into a gas generator where it meets a catalyst, it decomposes into steam. Discharged through two nozzles directed toward the ground, this steam provides the thrust.

The position of the nozzles, set out from the sides of the device, plus the low temperature of the steam, eliminate the need for protective clothing for the operator.

The propulsion system is mounted on a fiberglass corset moulded to fit the wearer's front and hips. It is secured in back by two quick-release safety belts. Two control tubes extend forward on each side so the wearer can reach them easily. One tube carries the throttle by which the operator controls the rate of power. The other is for a control lever leading to jet deflectors on the nozzles which control the direction of flight.

4,000 Brittany Farmers Take Over French City

MORLAIX, France (AP)—Some 4,000 Brittany farmers, embittered over the government's farm price structure, invaded Morlaix today aboard tractors and trucks.

The French Interior Ministry in Paris ordered a company of 130 tough riot police to move into the town. They were expected early this afternoon.

The farmers began streaming into Morlaix about dawn blocking highways around the town of 13,000 and the main streets with their vehicles. They occupied the local administrative building, held it for several hours and then withdrew and massed in the center of the town.

Sub-prefect Jacques Seron, the top local official fled with his family and aides to the police station. The scant local force of about 100 police was powerless against the mob.

One of the leaders of the invasion told a reporter, "We are not going to harm anyone." But he threatened that if the farmers did not receive immediate satisfaction, "there could be violence."

Report to Congress Chiefs

Khrushchev Raised Voice While Talking to Kennedy of W. Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has informed congressional leaders that Premier Khrushchev raised his voice when he told him in Vienna that West Berlin is a bone that must come out of the Soviet throat.

The President also reported Khrushchev indicated he regards Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as unstable—and not a Communist.

Talks to Party Heads
Kennedy briefed influential members of both parties at a 90-minute White House conference Tuesday before he told the nation in a television-radio broadcast a few hours later that the West is ready to maintain its rights in Berlin "at any risk."

The briefing, during which the President read from his translator's transcript of some of the conversations, was said to have disclosed that Khrushchev was vitally interested in only two subjects at this time—Berlin and a change in the secretariat direction of the United Nations.

So reported by responsible sources, these were some of the major topics discussed and positions taken in the 12 hours of conversations between the two leaders.

Berlin — Khrushchev has not changed his position of more than two years' standing that he intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Helwig-von rights in the city, indefinitely no date for this action. He said Kennedy that nobody but the

State of Siege For Bolivia

Of Reds and Other
Extreme Leftists

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Bolivia was reported under a state of siege—near martial law—today with widespread arrests of Communists and other extreme leftists.

Airline passengers arriving here from La Paz said President Victor Paz Estenssoro declared the emergency after a series of Communist-urged strikes swept the country. The strikes apparently stemmed from a dispute between the government and workers in the nationalized tin mines.

The travelers said the government appeared in control and La Paz was calm when they left.

Tried to Seize Power

Private sources in Buenos Aires, Argentina, said that Communists made an attempt to seize power, but this was denied by travelers from La Paz. They said strikers were the root of the trouble.

President Kennedy's special envoy, Adlai E. Stevenson, now in Buenos Aires, is scheduled to visit Bolivia June 15 on his South American tour.

Airline passengers brought copies of Tuesday's edition of the La Paz morning newspaper El Diario, which told of the arrest of Communist leaders.

Information in Buenos Aires indicated the industrial unrest was over President Paz Estenssoro's austerity program designed to get loans from the international monetary fund to put his debt-ridden nation on its feet.

OAS Launches Dominican Quiz

Find Out Whether Oppression Ended

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A commission from the Organization of American States begins investigating today to see if Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo's heirs are making good on their promise to end oppression.

President Joaquin Balaguer, the slain dictator's hand-picked chief executive, named Leland Rosenberg as the Dominican Republic's liaison man with the OAS mission.

Optimistic Outlook
Rosenberg talked at length Wednesday night with one of the OAS team, Carlos A. Clulow of Uruguay. The two had been in Bonn together until 1958 as their governments' ambassadors to West Germany.

Rosenberg was optimistic later, saying: "We will develop a few things, they will develop a few things and then matters will materialize."

Ambassador Arango, Panamanian ambassador in Washington and head of the 13 OAS investigators, said there was no time limit and he did not know when the investigation would be finished. His group is from Panama, Colombia, Uruguay and the United States.

The investigators will determine whether OAS sanctions imposed last summer—economic boycotts and breaks in diplomatic relations—are still justified. The Dominican government insists they are not.

Italian Leader Will Confer With Kennedy

U. S. Will Not Stop Trying to Deal With Reds

Hopes for Neutral
Laos, Nuclear Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today declared this nation's intention to keep bargaining with the Russians for a neutral and independent Laos under a cease-fire, and to strive further for a nuclear test ban.

Kennedy told a newspaper group this country has no intention of resuming atomic tests despite the disappointing outcome of his talks on that subject with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"For the present we are going to stay in Geneva (at the nuclear test negotiations), and stand by the draft treaty we have presented," Kennedy said.

Addressing a meeting of editor and publisher clients of United Press International, Kennedy said he wants the world to know that if a nuclear test ban, first step toward a more general disarmament, cannot be arrived at, it is not the fault of the United States.

Stay in Geneva

As for Laos, Kennedy said if it is impossible to reach agreement on the relatively simple matter of working out an effective cease-fire, "then how difficult—if not impossible—it would be to reach agreement on any other question."

Kennedy added, however: "I think we'll stay at Geneva and see if we can come to a neutral and independent Laos."

That appeared to settle, as far as the United States is concerned, the main issue over which the Laos negotiations have been thrown into indefinite recess.

People to Get Facts

Kennedy stressed the responsibility of the press to make clear to the American people the difficulties and the length of time which apparently will be required to solve the disputes now jeopardizing world peace.

"I think we can rely on the ability that Americans have in abundance—the ability to bear stress for long periods of time," Kennedy went on.

"I can assure you that as president I will try to make clear as completely as possible the nature of our problem and the measures we are taking to meet it."

Bodies Found in Florida

Few Clues in Slaying Of Georgia Women

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Authorities worked today on slim clues to the apparent strangulation slaying of two Georgia women who dropped from sight early on Memorial Day. They had driven to Jacksonville to make a hunch bet on the dog races.

The partly unclothed bodies of Althea Ottavio, 43, and Patricia Ann Hewett, 25, were seen Wednesday from a helicopter in a palmetto and pine woods area southwest of the city.

The women had been dead several days.

Investigators from the sheriff's office said it appeared the women were throttled with their own clothing.

Celebrated Birthdays
When the Valdosta, Ga., women drove the 122 miles to Jacksonville May 29, it was to be a lark celebrating Mrs. Ottavio's 43rd birthday that day and Mrs. Hewett's 26th birthday June 10.

Mrs. Ottavio, who was widowed in World War II, had a dream that led her to believe the 2-5 daily double would win at the Orange Park Kennel Club and planned to bet it.

The 2-5 daily double did win that night and paid $177 for $2. Investigators haven't learned if the women were there and bet on it.

Although Mrs. Ottavio often visited race tracks, it was a new experience for Mrs. Hewett, a native of Detroit, Mich.

Mother of Four
She had never been on a long trip away from her husband, William Charles Hewett, since they were married in 1952. They had four children—the oldest 5 and the youngest 3 months.

Mrs. Ottavio's car was found May 31 along an unpaved road southwest of Jacksonville. It was stuck in soft sand.

Officers pulled the car in but then had no report of the women being missing.

It was not until Mrs. Hewett's husband came to Jacksonville Monday of this week that an intensive search began.

Postponement Announced By Britain; Delegations Await Commission Report

Geneva (AP) — Britain today announced indefinite postponement of the conference on Laos because of "apparent serious violation" of the cease-fire.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the 14-nation conference on Laos.

The United States had previously announced it was boycotting the conference until Premier Khrushchev makes good on his agreement with President Kennedy that an effective cease-fire is necessary in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Malcolm MacDonald, head of the British delegation, saw Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georghi Pushkin for an hour this morning. Afterward, MacDonald issued a statement that some delegations informed him they could not attend further meetings until they have finished consulting their governments.

The delegations were identified as those of the United States, Britain and France.

Communist side wanted a meeting today, with speeches by Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi and a spokesman for the pro-Communist Laotians.

Seek to Shorten Pilot's Sentence

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Negotiations are underway with the Soviet Union to shorten the 10-year prison term given U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, says Dr. James E. Baugh, Mrs. Powers' doctor.

The Milledgeville, Ga., doctor, who accompanied Barbara Powers to Moscow last August, told of the negotiations at a Brunswick Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday. "Yes, I have definite information," he said. "I'd rather not say anything on it."

In Washington, however, U.S. officials said they did not know of any negotiations. U.S. diplomats have periodically asked the Soviets for permission to see Powers but have been refused.

The U2 pilot was convicted after his reconnaissance plane was shot down over the Soviet Union May 1, 1960.

It occurred when he was lifting several spades of dirt while planting a tree at Government House, residence of Canada's governor general.

Salinger called reporters into his office to tell them about the injury. He said Kennedy would appear today on crutches.

But, even as Salinger was talking with reporters, the President telephoned Salinger to say he would not use crutches today but would wait at least another day to see how he felt.

Salinger disclosed that Kennedy did use crutches for two days while at Hyannis Port, Mass. This was just prior to his trip to Paris, Vienna and London.

Salinger said Dr. Travell described the injury as a lumbosacral strain.

Restaurant Man Goes On Hunger Strike to Protest Route Change

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — A restaurant and motel operator has gone on a hunger strike in protest of plans to re-route U. S. Highway 301.

"I may as well die now as a year from now," 62-year-old Edward Brady printed on a sign which he erected in front of his business at Anthony seven miles north of Ocala.

He said he invested his life savings in the business and stands to lose it if the state road department goes ahead with a plan for building a new highway.

Brady said he started his hunger strike Monday morning and "I'm going to continue it as long as I possibly can."

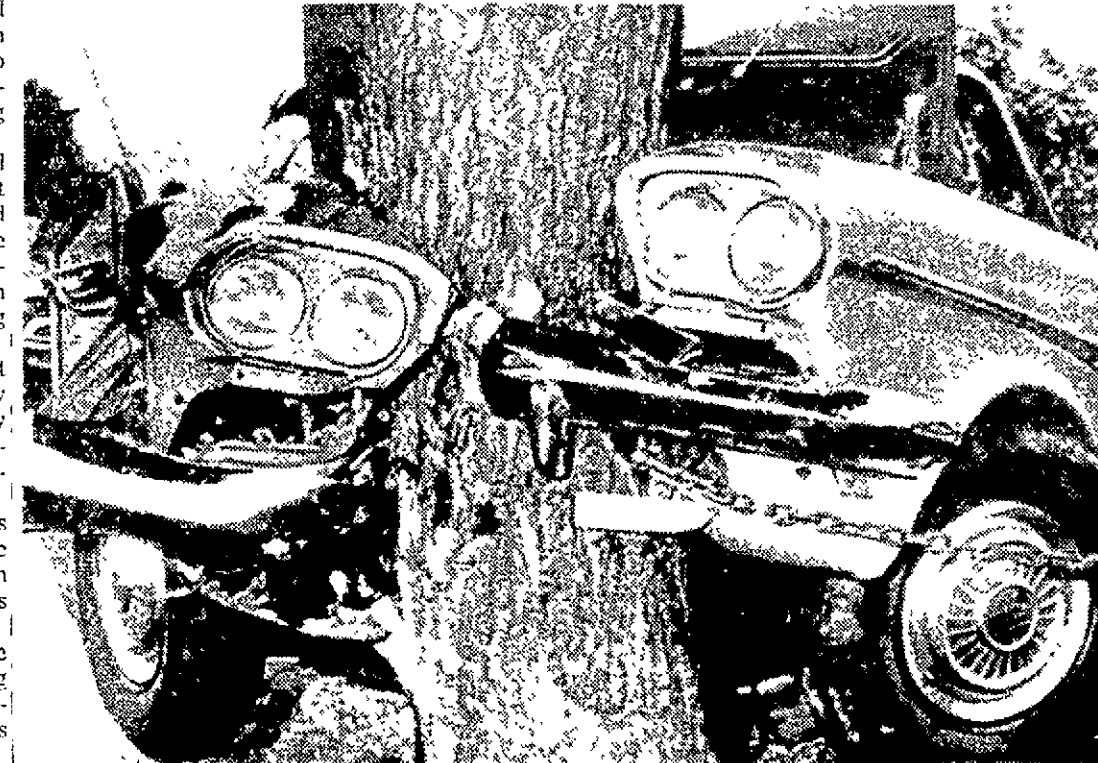

"If I don't get action, it means I'll go broke," Brady said yesterday. "If I do, I'll go to Washington, turn in my U. S. flag and give up my American citizenship."

Stevenson Finds Countries Will Talk About U. S. Aid; Ask Live and Let Live Attitude Toward Cuba

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson is finding Latin Americans anxious to talk about U. S. aid for their economy but shy on any kind of action against Fidel Castro's regime.

The United States' chief U.N. delegate, making a goodwill tour of South America for President Kennedy, was told bluntly by Argentine officials Wednesday that

Chinese Reds Ignore Spirit Of Vienna Talks

Events Indicate Mao No Way Bound by Decision at Summit

TOKYO (AP)—The fall of Peking and Red China's comments since Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy agreed in Vienna that an effective cease-fire in Laos is necessary suggest that Asian Communists headed by Mao Tse-tung feel in no way bound by the sober no-ultimatum, no-threat spirit of Vienna.

The Chinese Communist boss himself has made no comment on the Vienna meeting. But his propaganda organs, after earlier wishing the conference well, now dismiss it as a handshaking session that produced little or no results.

The Chinese Reds from the beginning of Kennedy's term pictured him as worse than President Eisenhower and by implication warned Khrushchev that such a man could not be trusted.

The Chinese diatribes against the youthful American chief executive have stepped up since the Vienna meeting.

The Cease-Fire

Referring to the cease-fire in Laos, the official New China News Agency charged that violations were created solely by the pro-Vietnam government headed by Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

"If Kennedy really means to recognize the importance of an effective cease-fire in Laos, as he stated in Vienna, then the United States should desist from encouraging the Phoumi-Boun Oum rebel clique to violate the cease-fire," it said.

It described the fall of Padong as a U.S. "pretext" for stalling the Geneva conference on Laos.

Mao and Communist China speak with authority on neighboring Laos. Though Soviet planes and pilots now airlift munitions and supplies to the rebels in the land-locked jungle kingdom, the Soviets are johnnies-come-lately there. Indochina for centuries has been a target for Chinese conquest.

Kennedy Gives Nikita Model Of Old Frigate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given Soviet Premier Khrushchev something to remember him by—a model of the historic U.S. frigate Constitution, a symbol of the nation's determination.

The ship, dubbed "Old Ironsides," played an important part in the War of 1812.

The White House disclosed yesterday that Kennedy, an old sailor and history buff, gave the 22-foot model to Khrushchev during their talks at Vienna.

White House News Secretary Pierre Salinger said he understood the Russian leader also gave Kennedy a gift but he said he didn't know what it was.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower once planned to give Khrushchev a boat, a full-sized jet-powered one. It was delivered to the U.S. embassy in Moscow.

But after the Paris summit conference blew up, the boat was not delivered to the Kremlin. It reportedly is being used by the American embassy staff.

Army Developing New Radar Screen System

Electronic Device ilikely to be Added To Nike Zeus Antimissile Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has embarked on development of a new type of radar that holds promise of meeting some of the criticism aimed at the Nike Zeus antimissile system.

It's called phased radar and involves emitting an electronic beam to scan the skies for oncoming enemy missiles. So Nike Zeus rockets can seek them out and destroy them far from targets in the United States.

Such a radar device, if proved successful, would replace the heavy rotating scanning structures now in use.

Army specialists said today the new type radar would do its job rapidly and precisely.

Less Costly

These specialists said it would be simpler and less costly than the models now in use.

Disclosure of the new Army approach came Wednesday in a brief statement announcing award of a nearly $5 million contract to the Western Electric Co. for work on an advanced radar "design for possible future incorporation into the Nike Zeus antimissile missile system."

The Army has been waging an uphill fight for some time to convince the Kennedy administration and top Pentagon officials that the Nike Zeus antimissile — the only one under advanced development—is as good as the Army says it is.

Ask $300 Million

The administration has asked about $300 million for the next fiscal year to push development. But it has refused to order production of long lead items which the Army said is necessary to get the system in operation at the earliest possible date.

Critics of Nike Zeus have questioned whether the system's radar is good enough to discriminate between enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles and decoy devices the Soviets would be certain to send up with them — in other words, whether the Zeus radar can be fooled.

Asked about this, one Army specialist said today the new type of radar to be developed "has a potential for improved discrimination."

State Receives Promise of Funds For Deaf School

MADISON (AP)—A federal agency on Wednesday promised its promise to aid in the construction of a vocational rehabilitation center for the State School for the Deaf at Delavan.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson said he had received a telegram from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare approving the half-million dollar project. The state had been awaiting federal approval for over a year. Had the government delayed its approval for another four to six weeks, the state appropriation for the center would have lapsed.

Samuel Milesky, state superintendent of schools for the deaf and visually handicapped, said a federal grant of approximately $300,000, or about 60 per cent of the cost, is expected to be announced shortly. He said work on the building should begin this summer.

Difficulties blocking federal approval were cleared up last month when Nelson visited in Washington, D.C., with former Madison mayor Ivan Nestingen, undersecretary of health, education and welfare. Nestingen said at that time that federal approval and funds would be forthcoming.

Former FBI Agent Says Court Ruling Will Have No Effect on Reds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who spent nine years as an FBI informant within the Communist party says the Supreme Court ruling that Communists must register will have little effect.

"A few years ago, such a ruling would have been a crushing blow to the Communists," said Herbert Philbrick, author of the book, "I Led Three Lives." In an interview Wednesday, lecture series.

U. S. Displays Tools Of Guerrilla Warfare

'Operation Mobility' Shows Capability Of Army in Types of Battlefield Action

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (AP)—The Army today puts on display some of the spectacular transportation highlights of the equipment it would use in guerrilla warfare.

The spotlight plays on: Hooking a rocket to the back of a man so he can be shot limited distances. There have been more than 30 tests of this still experimental device.

A "marsh buggy" for moving men and supplies through swampy areas too thick for boats and too thin for vehicles or foot travel.

A "helicycle," a miniature helicopter to carry a soldier over enemy-held strips of land or across impassable terrain.

Battlefield Action

They are part of the Transportation Corps' "operation mobility" program. Its object: To show the corps' capability in both limited and full-scale battlefield action.

By coincidence, today's demonstration comes two days after President Kennedy, in a nationwide radio-television talk, again emphasized the priority Communists give to waging "sub-limited" warfare. That is the planned conquest of a country through guerrillas or insurgents.

At this headquarters and research center for the Transportation Corps is a combat development group assigned to watch out for the specific needs of various branches of the Army, including the special forces of guerrilla warfare experts.

In this connection, the Transportation Corps will conduct an exercise designated as "Operation Swamp Fox" in Panama beginning July 7. This will test equipment and methods used in getting forces troops already are training with personnel of friendly Latin-American countries in the Panama area.

The President Reports

As President Kennedy said in his speech to the American public Tuesday evening, the difference between what words mean to the United States and the Soviet Union is great. If there was needed justification for his Vienna meeting, finding out that hard, discouraging fact was enough.

In reality we have traded Laos for Berlin for the time being. It probably was as good a bargain as could be driven. Guerrilla warfare in Laos would have been costly. But now we must wonder what the Communists will set up to dicker with next. What area they know we will fight for—probably will fight for—will they trade for an area of less importance to us but that we might not have relinquished without the tightening thumb screws? Will it be Egypt for Cuba? Turkey for Afghanistan? Guatemala for Iran?

The President pointed out that we are in Berlin and the move to oust us must come from the Communists. But we can be sure there will be moves, if not in Germany, then somewhere else in the world. Does the new administration cling to the "containment" theory which hopes to hold Red control where it is? If so, it is doomed to failure? In the last year the Communists have not been contained. The only way to contain the Reds is to keep up the attack ourselves in various parts of the world. It is a dangerous method, one filled with risk of battles and murders and even war. Can we afford not to use it?

As far as the failure of the President and Premier Khrushchev to come to any agreement on nuclear test bans is concerned, this was expected by all except the most optimistic who cling to the desperate fallacy that the nuclear devices can be successfully outlawed. Poison gas was so outlawed, it is true, but we suspect that any future massive war, if that threat to our civilization ever comes, would employ chemical warfare as well as nuclear destruction. The failure to reach a test ban agreement was not a matter of semantics. Investigation needed for trust could only be interpreted by the Russians as espionage as Khrushchev claims. But perhaps this failure was just as well. Even with inspection, nuclear experiments are becoming easier to conduct in secret. The honest partner, by sticking to the bargain, sets up his own destruction.

The emphasis the President put upon encouraging the economic development of primitive nations as a means of holding back communism is important. We have not done very well in this field despite the billions of dollars we have spent. Foreign aid is essential in this desperate struggle but it will have to be a lot more intelligently administered foreign aid and too much should not be expected of it.

The President's trip was important. His visits with President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan stressed the unity of the three nations and apparently helped to cement it. Khrushchev found out that our young man in Washington is serious and firm. President Kennedy found out a little about what the world is up against in the Communist leader. This won't create peace. It may not even slow down the various battles around the world. But the lines have been drawn a little more clearly, for the time being at least.

Inflation Is the Greatest Thief

During the period from 1921 to 1933, bank depositors in the United States lost $1.9 billion of the amounts they had in banks. It was a tremendous total and everyone was well aware of it. But people today are taking a loss more than 100 times as great without realizing it or at least without understanding it very well.

The Economists National Committee on Monetary Policy has made an effort to explain this loss in an article by Walter E. Spahr, executive vice president. He has totaled the amount the people had in United States Savings Bonds, time deposits in all banks, Savings and Loan Associations, Social Security trust and employment funds for the 21-year period from December, 1939, to December, 1960. To that sum he has added the life insurance in force and the annuities paid out during the 20-year period from December, 1939, to December, 1959. He finds that the average holding in all six categories is $400.1 billion.

Mr. Spahr has taken the purchasing power of the dollar as measured by the index of wholesale prices which was 100 cents for the period 1947-1949. With the indexes of 51.5 in December, 1939, and 108.9 in December, 1959, and 119.5 in December, 1960, the loss in the purchasing power of the dollar in 1959 and 1960 was approximately 57 per cent of the value in December, 1939. Thus the loss through inflation was approximately $728 billion of the total average savings of $2.2 billion.

The total loss in savings of various kinds during the past 20 or 21 years is more than 120 times the loss that was severely felt in the 1921 to '33 period.

Mr. Spahr says that "insurance companies and other holders of people's savings are paying back to these savers dollars that are much less valuable than those paid in by most of the savers. Officials of these institutions for savings who are concerned with the welfare of savers should be among the leaders in the attempt being made to protect the value of the saver's dollar. The first and fundamental step to be taken is to give our dollar the quality of integrity; and that means the institution of a redeemable currency at the present statutory rate and proper controls of the use of credit."

Some may differ with Mr. Spahr's recommendation as to the action to be taken but all must wonder how long we can continue to inflate our savings at the rate of about $11 billion per year before we face a general crushing correction.

The American Farm Success Story

Orville L. Freeman, secretary of agriculture, is calling upon the farmers to get to their newspapers, their radio and television stations with "the smashing success story of American agriculture."

Sec. Freeman, in an article published in The Progressive Farmer magazine, says that farmers today are not only beset by unpredictable weather conditions which may hamper their production of crops, but also are in trouble with the "climate of public opinion" which he believes now is as dark and ominous as the hour before the tornado strikes. He believes that much of the non-farm public is critical of, even hostile toward agriculture.

To offset this he believes that labor, industry, business and professional people must know of the marvelous job agriculture has been doing.

He says that American farmers have accomplished one of the great breakthroughs. They have abolished one of mankind's oldest anxieties — fear of hunger and famine. He continues with the statement that Americans today are better fed and at a lower cost than ever before. He says an hour's factory work today buys more farm food than it did 20 or 30 years ago. Wages from one hour of factory work in 1960 bought 83 per cent more round steak, 126 per cent more milk, 138 per cent more oranges or 169 per cent more bacon than in 1929.

In spite of this wonderful abundance of low priced foods, the farm workers last year, according to Sec. Freeman, received less than 82 cents an hour for their labor. The farmer received 12 per cent less for food he produced in 1960 than he did in 1947-49. He says the real reason we pay more for farm food than we did in 1947-49 is that the cost of getting the food to the housewife increased 36 per cent.

Sec. Freeman is correct in his statement that the American farmers have done a magnificent job in producing food. No one has ever denied that statement. Many Americans have commented upon the fact that it is strange, indeed, to live in a country where one of the greatest problems is that there is too much to eat. No higher compliment could be paid to a farmer.

On the other hand, we do not believe there is much truth in the claim that much of the non-farm public is critical of or even hostile toward agriculture. The hostility is toward the politicians who have been manipulating the farm program at Washington. It frequently is directed toward Congress which has upon occasion shown more interest in gaining farm votes than in solving the farm problem. The farmers are troubled by the farm problem the same way as other citizens are. They are seeking a solution but are getting little help from Washington in finding it.

The things Sec. Freeman boasts of such as the magnificent job the farmer has done in producing surpluses, is the bone of contention in all farm discussions. The situation of the farmer today is not different from that of 100 or 200 days ago. Nevertheless, in the months preceding the presidential election, the Democratic candidates and their advocates, including Sec. Freeman, were loud in their condemnation of the farm program and if anything tended to develop an unfavorable climate for farm operations that was it. Mr. Freeman now has been in office for 100 days but in that period there has been no great change in the farm situation. The farmer today is operating under the conditions set up by the Eisenhower administration. In spite of the severe criticism leveled at the past administration by Mr. Freeman and his Democratic associates, there can be no denying that much of the unfavorable farm climate was built up by such criticism. Nevertheless we think the farmer has a good word coming and we are happy to pass any such information along.

Merits of Arbitration Editorial Discussed by Neenah Attorney

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Arbitration as a manifestation of the law in action, as opposed to the law in books, has long interested me and your lead editorial entitled "Competition for Our Courts" appearing on Thursday, June 1, 1961, will no doubt cause discussion. It seems that several other comments in addition to those in your editorial might be made.

Arbitration is, of course, no new phenomena, people have always been able to voluntarily settle their differences, with or without the aid of a third party. In civil cases especially, the court is essentially a third party to which disputes can be submitted in the framework of well established rules. The chief advantage of the court is, of course, the sanction or right to enforce its judgment. That sanction is necessary even in arbitration, and the arbitration clauses suggested by the American Arbitration Association (AAA) for inclusion in contracts provides that a judgment may be entered upon the award given in arbitration.

Arbitration has the support of the American Bar Association. In 1924 that association supported legislation to implement arbitration contracts and commercial arbitration treaties between the United States and South American nations. In 1926, the AAA was founded.

It is true in some areas that court calendars are crowded. In this area, however, cases can be heard reasonably soon. Moreover, delay in the enforcement of alleged rights is not caused only by the courts. There may be long delays necessitated by negotiation, investigation and the determination of damages. Once the case is filed, however, in our area, the matter may proceed reasonably diligently.

Delay in the courts is not the only reason for the development of arbitration and another "competitor" of the courts, the administrative tribunal. As a prominent legal historian says, these "competitors" of the court grew because no longer did the country community emphasize and insist on the drama of the county courthouse and city people looked at their legal problems from a viewpoint that was more impersonal, more cost-conscious, more hurrying and business - results - minded. This change of temper can easily be discerned by the change in the type of case which is appealed to the Supreme Court of Wisconsin. It is seldom possible nowadays to find cases in the reports which involve small monetary amounts and are there on principal only. Litigation at the drop of a hat is no longer part of the American way of life.

James Willard Hurst, The Growth of the American Law, The Law Makers, Little, Brown and Company, 1950, p. 176.

It is perhaps inaccurate to say that courts feel competition from arbitration. Most courts urge voluntary settlement and most judges would be delighted to see a cut in their work load. Moreover, while not generally appreciated, perhaps court proceedings are started in only 10 per cent of litigable disputes, and perhaps only 10 per cent of these proceed to judgment. Some of these judgments could be eliminated if one or the other party were not unreasonable. The reason for voluntary settlement is largely because of the very important function of the court as an omnipresent institution providing a legal framework in which disputes can be coercively settled. As a result, voluntary settlement is promoted.

One clear advantage of arbitration is the private "judge" selected by the parties is an expert in analyzing the factual framework in which the dispute arises. The AAA has a list of 15,000 such experts. However, as your editorial indicates, many of these people are not legally trained and cannot be expected to know the law as well as a judge, though in the last analysis the arbitrator's decision can only be what it hypothetically would have been if submitted to court. The law is still there both substantively (The AAA publishes such literature as Arbitration Law, a quarterly digest of court decisions and the Lawyer's Arbitration Letter) and procedurally (there are 52 rules for governing commercial arbitration).

Arbitration is not necessarily less costly. AAA arbitrators get no fee, but the AAA has a service charge (e.g. $150 for each party where the claim is $10,000, $500 for each party where the claim is $200,000.) Witness fees, representation fees and other costs may be somewhat less but are certainly not eliminated.

Of course, the services of the AAA are not essential, anyone can be an arbitrator, but ordinarily a fee is earned and due in such a case. Local lawyers are by no means adverse to arbitration and many contracts drafted locally, especially building contracts have arbitration clauses.

Your editorial might leave the impression that:

1. injustice resulting from court delay is widespread
2. arbitration is a panacea
3. courts and lawyers oppose arbitration
4. arbitration is a new device
5. the law in action is intolerably static

Looking Backward

Cuba Feels Effects of Civil War

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 7, 1861.

(Report from the Crescent's correspondent in Cuba)

Havana, Cuba — The effects of our national troubles have been disastrous here. Hundreds have failed and business of every kind is suffering terribly.

As the Southern ports are now blockaded, all communication with that part of the country has been entirely cut off. As the general government has chartered most of the steamers accustomed to make regular trips between Havana and New York, we are confined almost exclusively to a solitary British steamer — the Karnak — for news from the North.

In view of this want, a Spanish steamer is about to be placed ed on the line, and there is talk of two others being rigged up for that purpose.

The U.S. Consul General, Capt. R. W. Shufeldt, recently took charge of the consulate here. He refuses to give clearance for New Orleans or any other port in the seceded States.

More than a billion dollars for national defense in the fiscal year beginning July 1 was made available by the signing by President Roosevelt of the $326,546,532 navy supply bill.

Leaders of a steel workers' union went into a final momentous huddle under a virtual ultimatum from John L. Lewis to decide definitely whether they would accept his plan to organize 500,000 men in the industry.

Mrs. Walter Rosenzweig was elected president of Montefiore Ladies Aid Society at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Adolph Hamilton, Mrs. A. E. Hamilton was chosen vice president.

Russell Spoor was elected president of the Little Theater of the Fox River Valley.

Annexation Defeat Shows Party Thinking

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The casual and almost indifferent way in which the state senate put to death the most realistic city and village annexation bill that has been presented in Wisconsin in many years was one of the meaningful events of the legislative year.

The bill was doomed long before the roll call vote. Those earnest advocates, representing urban constituencies, who went through the routine of making their arguments performed manfully enough. But their hearts were not in their work. They were aware of the futility of the effort.

The senate was going to kill the bill no matter what was said, regardless of the evidence presented, regardless of the obvious changes in the political complexion of the state, and in defiance of what the census bureau has so graphically shown about the astonishingly rapid urbanization of what was once a rural commonwealth.

The opponents, meanwhile, were so sure of the imminent death of the bill that they scarcely bothered to make an argument.

WHAT HAPPENED?

This was a manifestation of a psychology, an enduring and defiant belief in the superiority of rural Wisconsin over the growing urban constituency of the Wisconsin politician. It really didn't matter much what the bill contained — and a fair guess would be that most of the opponents had only a hazy notion of the contents.

Any bill that purported to provide an effective means to permit cities to accommodate their boundaries and their space needs to their obviously growing populations would have got the same murderous reception in the state legislature.

Whatever the population figures may show — and they show today that 70 per cent of all Wisconsin inhabitants live in cities and villages — when it comes to city-rural relations, the legislature continues to react as its predecessors of 1920 and 1900 would have reacted.

Some of the opponents of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities' carefully drafted annexation bill will quarrel about details, when they are challenged on their votes. But they significantly failed to offer amendments, even when Sen. Zaborski of Milwaukee, who did a good job of defending it and explaining it, appealed to them to offer changes to suit their particular objections. The conclusion is inescapable: the senate didn't want any annexation bill, on any terms, that would change the strait-jacket arrangements confining many of the cities today and threatening more of them during the next decade or two.

POLITICS

Aside from the merits—which can divide honest men and men of good will — this incident told a significant story of the attitude of the political parties.

The leading Democrats in the legislature backed the annexation reform. Perhaps that is a natural reaction since the leading Democrats are city representatives, city bred and schooled. The leading Republicans opposed it and provided the votes to defeat it. That is not so easily explained, since some of them have substantial constituencies of city residents. Moreover, the Republicans are forever wondering — as after the November presidential campaign last year — how they can recapture the affection of city voters. Such roll calls by vote against the urban interest in the typical legislature may very well be one of the reasons for their frustration.

Perhaps such reflections are unfair. Legislators tend to represent the viewpoints and the wills of their constituencies, as far as they can guess them. The man on the street in the city doesn't bother himself much about these essentially remote and difficult questions. The man in the suburbs and in the rural towns does, and an attentive minority is always more powerful than a passive majority.

What Others are Saying

Montgomery Mob Struck Cruel Blow

From The Miami Herald

The mob which stormed a Negro church in Montgomery and imprisoned 1,500 persons through the night struck a cruel blow to the reputation of a proud city and state. Even more damaging was the hurt summarily dealt the nation.

Lights burned through the dark hours in Washington and the President appealed to the citizens for reason and order. But reason was notably absent as the crowd stormed through protecting lines of federal agents and reeled back through clouds of tear gas.

The governor of Alabama angrily told Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Byron White that he was an interloper and that his efforts to preserve order were not welcome. He threatened to arrest federal marshals if they interfered with local laws and processes. "We are enforcing the law in the state," said the governor as the sullen mob stood a few blocks away.

This challenge the nation could not ignore. If simple civil rights are denied in Alabama they are in danger everywhere.

The "Freedom Riders" who came testing integration in the bus stations may have been looking for something like this. They got a taste of brutality in Anniston last week (and had their point made for them) yet returned for more.

Nevertheless, the Montgomery rioters gave their city a name that will be shouted at hate rallies wherever the Reds seek a handy whip to lash their own mobs to fury.

We may speak high words in the councils of men who seek to create a world of peace and order and justice but the howling mob around a church in Montgomery made them sound like hypocrites.

18 Lawrence Faculty Members Receive Research Fellowships

Eight Get Grants for Summer Work

Ten Lawrence College faculty members have been given research leaves for all or part of the next school year, and another eight have been given summer research grants.

Several of the winter-term grants come through the college's own sabbatical program, while others originate from foundations. The summer research grants are available through the Danforth and Lilly Foundations.

Five of the group will be gone the entire year. Dr. Stephen F. Darling of the chemistry department will finish a project he has undertaken with Dr. Irwin A. Pearl at the Institute of Paper Chemistry as well as beginning new individual work. Teymoor Gedayloo of the physics department will be at the Argonne National Laboratory as one of the faculty appointees from Associated Colleges of the Midwest supervising student work as well as engaging in his own private research.

Fulbright Grant
Dr. Herbert Spiegelberg has been given a Fulbright fellowship to the University of Cologne, but since he has been invited to be a visiting professor in philosophy at the University of Munich, he is hopeful that the grant can be transferred to the latter institution. Spiegelberg will do research on the influence of phenomenology on psychology. Edgar M. Turrentine of the music education department will use a Danforth grant to work toward his doctorate at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Mojmir Povolny of the government department will spend about seven months in Paris and three months in Africa making a study of the transition from the French colonial empire to the Franco-African community.

Will Go Abroad
Dr. William Read of the geology department will be on leave of absence for the first semester to finish two pieces of research begun earlier: a study of the sequence of rock layers in local limestone quarries, originally undertaken for the Geological Society of America; and a study of water well records in this area, begun three years ago under a National Science Foundation grant.

Research leaves during the second semester will take faculty members to both Asia and Europe. Dr. Chandler W. Rowe, dean-elect of the college and head of the anthropology department, will spend the second term in Japan, studying cultural changes; while conservatory faculty members Kenneth Byler and Fred Schroeder will make trips to Europe. Byler will divide his time studying in New York and Germany, while Schroeder will be at the National Conservatory of Music in Paris as well as observing the Guard Republic Band in that city. He plans professional stops at the University of Michigan and Eastman School of Music en route. Leonard Weis of the geology department will be on leave to work on a graduate project.

Summer grants have been made to Frank Bessac, anthropology; and Dezone Lenard, Slavic languages, for work at the University of Wisconsin; to John Koopman, voice, and Theodore Rehl, piano, for study at Indiana University; to Donald Lemke, education, to attend the University of Colorado; and to Richard Whitcomb, German, for work at Stanford University. Two will use their grants to travel in the interests of research and writing: Dr. Leonard Pinsky will work on a book dealing with the philosophies of science while spending the summer in Florence, Italy. Dr. Norman Taylor will make a trip to Canada for research toward a book he is planning on the economic history of French Canada.

Receive Grants
Several members of the science faculty have received foundation grants which they will use over an extended period without interfering with their Lawrence teaching schedules. They include Dr. Robert Rosenberg, chemistry, who will do a two-year research project on the reaction of proteins with alcohol for the National Science Foundation both at Northwestern University and on the Lawrence campus; and Dr. Sumner Richman, for a four-year program of basic research on Superior field station in Minne-

Otto Appointed to Industrial Agency

MADISON (AP) — George W. Otto, 54, a career Industrial Commission employee, was appointed a commissioner of that agency by Gov. Gaylord Nelson Wednesday.

He was named to succeed John H. Rouse to a six-year term. The job pays $13,500 yearly. Rouse's term expired June 1.

Otto has been on the commission's staff since 1936 and has been a hearing examiner in the workmen's compensation division since 1945. He is a native of Milwaukee and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin law school.

The governor also reappointed Mathias Schimenz of Milwaukee as commission chairman for another two-year period. Reuben G. Knutson of Stevens Point is the third member.

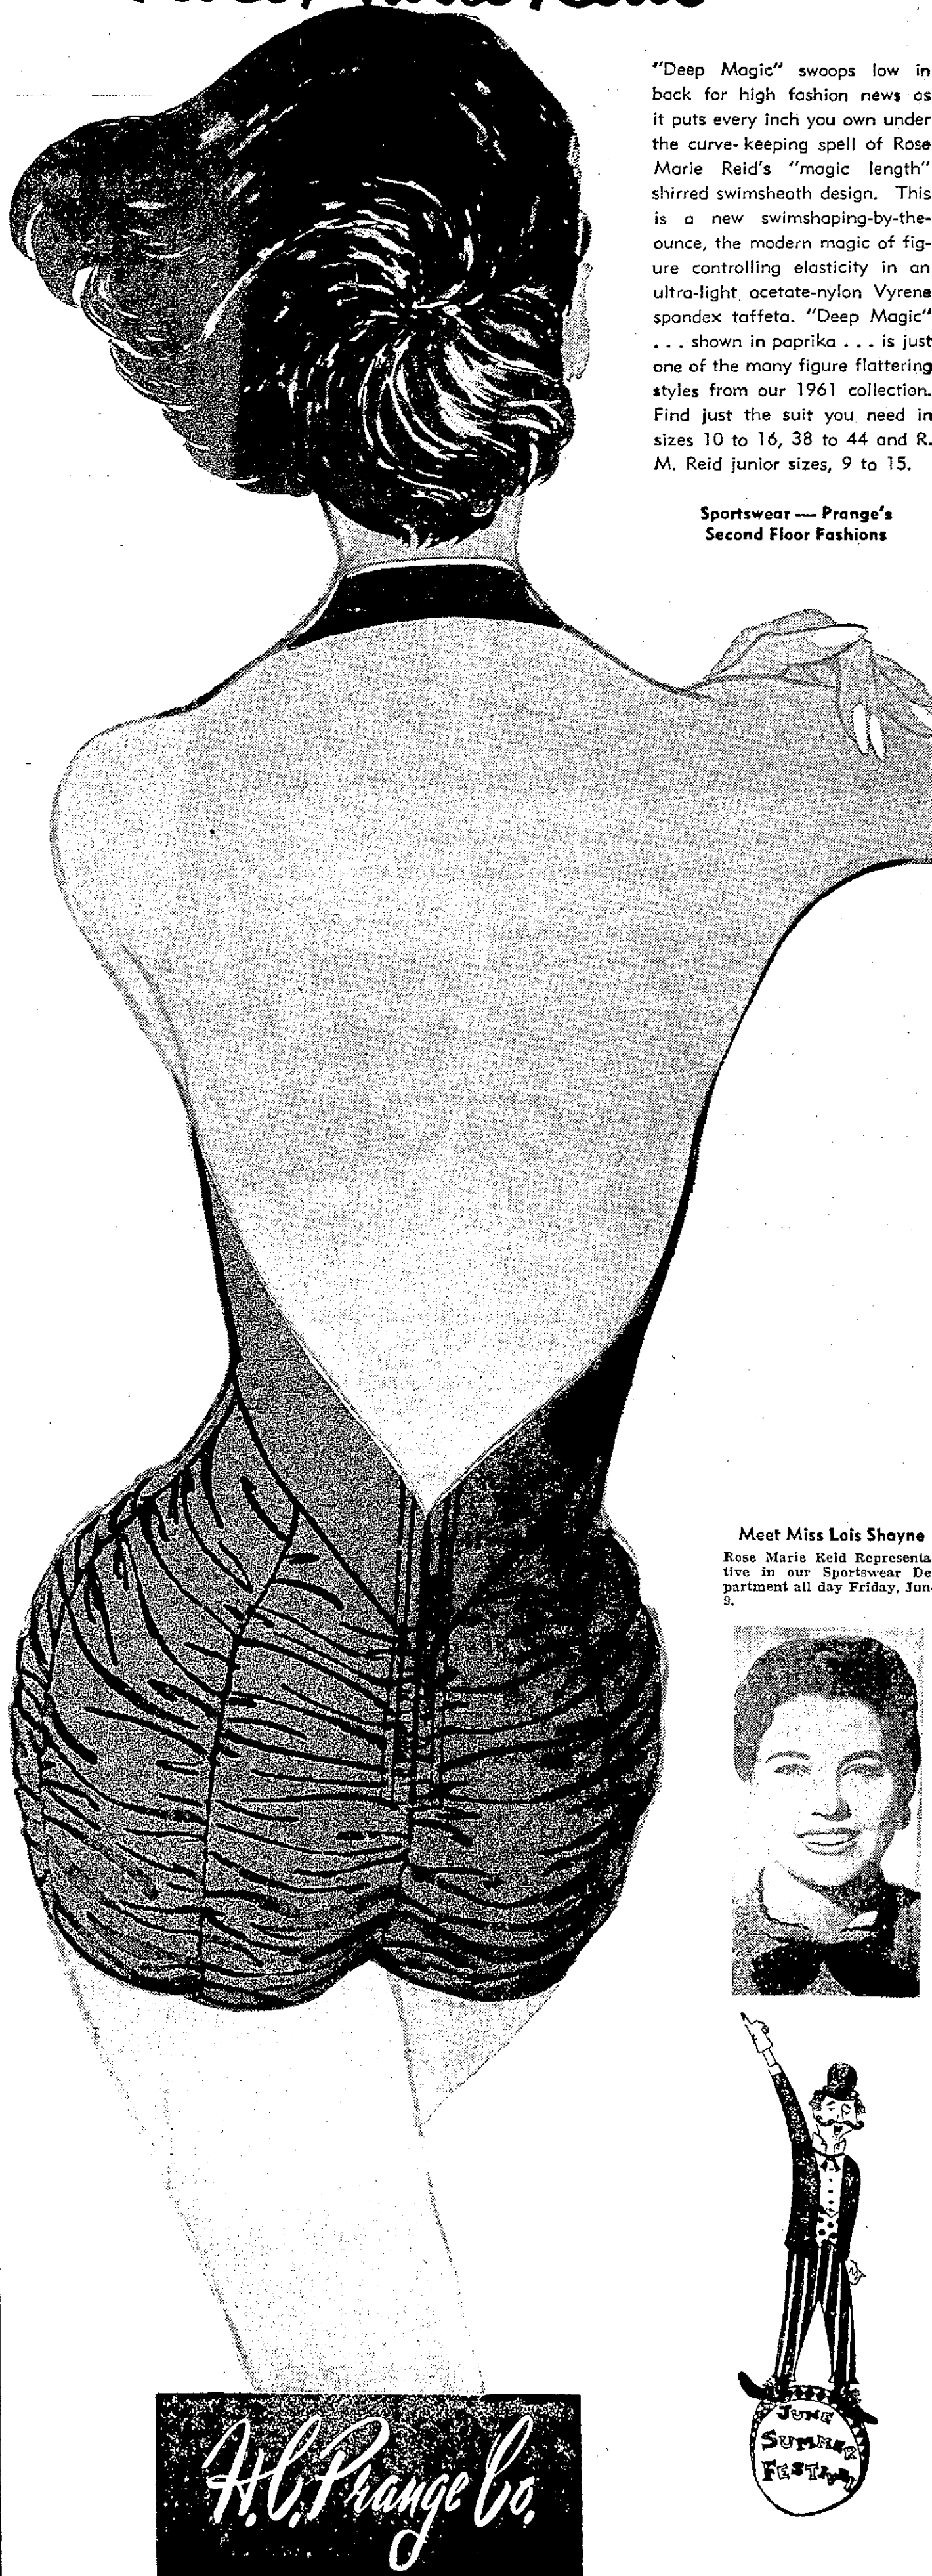

Otto's appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

isms, also for the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Richard Zuehlke of the chemistry department will be sponsored in his research by the Petroleum Corporation and Kimberly-Clark Corporation, to be carried out during the summer and fall. Now at the end of the first year of a four-year National Science Foundation grant for the study of transverse oscillations of a hydro-jet is Dr. Bruce Brackenridge of the physics department.

Two scientists have received support for summer projects: Dr. W. Paul Gilbert, physics, who will study for eight weeks at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory and Institute for Nuclear Studies; and Dr. Sumner Richman, biology, who will spend a week working on limnology at the Quetico-Superior field station in Minne-

Business, Labor Asked To Give Support for Peace Corps Personnel

CHICAGO (AP)— R. Sargent Shriver Jr., has called upon American business and labor to grant special manpower concessions so the newly formed Peace Corps can enlist top-level administrators, secretaries and trained technicians.

Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, said he is convinced 50,000 jobs need filling at this moment in the 103 underdeveloped areas of the world.

If the peace corps fails in carrying out the task assigned to it, "it will be because we did not give the best that is in us," he said.

In the commencement during graduation exercises at De Paul University, he made this recommendation for business:

"Paying taxes is no longer in itself sufficient: the Peace Corps needs the kind of trained and aggressive people who make a success in business. I hope American businesses and industries will provide two-year leaves of absence, without pay, but with re-employment benefits for their employees — whether top-level administrators or secretaries — who can meet a critical need abroad."

developments because of the relatively higher costs of capital and increased investment risks in most foreign countries," he said.

"We are now asked, in effect, to alter our business philosophy with respect to our overseas interest, and to finance our developments, principally through the remission of additional U. S. dollars."

He intimated that if corporate taxes were levied against income made abroad, then the domestic operations would have to use some of its earnings, thus making fewer funds available for expansion at home, with the result that there would be fewer jobs available for American labor.

One reason why Kimberly-Clark is interested in expansion outside of the United States, its vice president reported, is because foreign markets offered "attractive growth possibilities."

Use of Paper

Pointing out that the average use of paper and paper board in America is about 430 pounds per capita per year, Crowell said that this per capita consumption overseas ranged from 2 pounds in India to 206 in the United Kingdom.

Another reason why the company has expanded in foreign countries, he pointed out was current trend of decline in volume of export trade.

Crowell told the committee that he "strenuously disputed the validity" of the portion of President Kennedy's tax message which read, in part, "to the extent that these tax havens and other tax deferral privileges result in U. S. firms investing and localizing abroad largely for tax reasons . . . profits are retained and re-invested abroad which otherwise would be invested in the United States."

Name Deficient

"I know of no major U. S. industry which, at the moment, is deficient in modern and efficient facilities for the production of its products here at home," continued Crowell. "Certainly the paper industry is not. Since 1945 the total expenditures of U. S. domiciled paper companies for capital improvements and additions have exceeded $7 billion."

The effect of U. S. private business establishing plants abroad has created a favorable image of this country's economic system, he emphasized, and added that "I might almost suggest that our economic image abroad is, at times, superior to our political image."

Adoption of any taxation policy which would "stunt" the program of American business in foreign countries, he said, "would thwart many of the objectives sought to be accomplished by governmental foreign aid."

Assembly Defeats Annexation Bill

Move to Create Third Court in Brown County Wins Approval

MADISON (AP) — A measure which would allow cities to annex unincorporated territory without a vote of the residents involved was killed 53-37 by the Assembly late Wednesday.

The Assembly, struggling to get through a pileup of legislation, defeated the measure with little debate. An identical measure was defeated by the Senate last week.

Robert Uehling, R-Madison, opposed the proposal which he said would allow annexation of any land which was likely to become urban in the near future. He called it a very loose standard which could be applied to any farm land around a city.

Preliminary approval was given by the Assembly to a bill to create a third branch of the Brown County court. During the discussion of the measure, a battle broke out between the two sides, disrupted proceedings by flitting around the Assembly chamber.

Spirited Chase

After a spirited chase, the sergeant at arms swatted the confused mammal with a broom and knocked it unconscious.

Also killed by the Assembly with little debate were several resolutions which called for amendments to the constitution to give top state officers and Assemblymen four year terms of office. The Senate, also meeting in an evening session, got several additions to its mounting backlog of legislation.

Included in the new bills was a proposal to restore the 1961-63 state building fund to the $63 million figure recommended by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

The Republican-controlled Joint Finance Committee cut the fund to about $45 million when it rejected Nelson's suggestion that the University of Wisconsin and state college student fee receipts to it be doubled. Presently, the fund receives 20 per cent of UW student fees and 33 1-3 per cent of those paid to state colleges.

Reopen Old Fight

A Democratic proposal would reopen the old fight over university and state college faculty pay increases. It would set the increases at 10 per cent for each year in the coming biennium as recommended by the governor. In passing the executive budget bill, the Legislature cut the annual boosts to 7 and 5 per cent.

The Senate refused to take up for consideration of confirmation the 18-month-old Nelson appointment of Joe Nushbaum as commissioner of the Department of Administration.

Democrats, aided by Republicans Allen Busby of Milwaukee and Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, tried to get the appointment out of committee and up for action. The 1959 Senate failed to act on Nushbaum's appointment and it has been in committee this session.

Republicans did not publicly say why they desired not to act.

Violation of Truce in Laos Disrupts Talks

news of fighting at Padong in Laos they cannot attend a further session of the conference until they have completed their consultations with their governments on the situation created by this apparent serious violation of the cease-fire.

"In the meantime they hope that the international commission will send an early report on the matter."

"In view of this, Mr. MacDonald expressed the opinion that the next session should be postponed for the time being. The date of the next meeting of the conference will be announced in due course."

Reds Charge Sabotage
The Communist defense of the Padong action was amplified by a dispatch to the Soviet news agency Tass from a correspondent at Hanoi, who charged that immediately after the cease-fire agreement, the Vientiane government sent into the Communist-controlled areas "groups of saboteurs and bandits led by American advisers and officers who started terroristic actions against the population and the (rebel) allied forces."

"Quite naturally," the Tass dispatch continued, "the lawful Lao-gian government (as the Communists term the rebel regime) could not tolerate bands of saboteurs and American freebooters acting behind its lines, killing and terrorizing the population."

The Vientiane government had reported previously that Padong was garrisoned by about 1,000 anti-Communist Meo tribesmen and government troops and that with them were six American military advisers.

An American source said Wednesday night that the U.S. delegation would not attend any further sessions until the pro-Communist rebels stop their attacks and a real truce is achieved.

Gromyko Awaited

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is flying from Moscow to Geneva tonight. Western delegates hoped he would bring instructions for the Communist bloc to get behind the U.S. demand for more power for the international truce commission in Laos.

The American delegates to the Geneva conference forced cancellation of Wednesday's session after the Pathet Lao rebels captured Padong with a violent artillery barrage and an infantry charge. The rebel artillery, silent at Padong since Thursday, resumed Monday in what looked like a pointed rebuff to the Kennedy-Khrushchev declaration at Vienna.

For a time the Americans talked of packing up and going home, but Washington ordered them to stand by in hopes the Communists would modify their previous opposition to discussing ways of preventing cease-fire violations.

Won't Force Collapse
State Department press officer Lincoln White said in Washington that the United States is not going to bring about a collapse of the Geneva conference "through any obstructive tactics or otherwise."

"Violations of the cease-fire in Laos are a matter of great concern to the United States and indeed to other delegations at Geneva," White said. "This is the central issue at Geneva—in other words, to see to it that the international control commission is actually had been some military strengthening of the anti-Communist forces since the cease-fire was proclaimed May 3, and that the rebel forces had generally been contending that the halted their advance while cease-fire violations in Laos are inconsequential and that the truce

Hits at Hammarskjold

United Nations — Khrushchev contended the U.N. actions in the Congo, under the direction of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, were not neutral but were pointed against Soviet interests. Never again, he said, would the Soviet Union be placed in a position where its national security policies could be interfered with by the international organization. This was the beginning, he indicated of the "troika" policy under which the Soviets would insist that the unanimous vote of a three-man board—on which the East, West and a neutral would be represented—direct the actions of international commissions, including the United Nations.

Cuba—Khrushchev does not regard Castro as a Communist. But he told Kennedy "you are well on the way to making him a good one." The Soviet leader indicated he regards Castro as unstable. Khrushchev told Kennedy that Americans were always giving commission needs no further powers or instructions. It wants the conference to get to work on arrangements for the political future of the kingdom, but the United States insists political matters cannot be discussed until the fighting has stopped.

American delegates felt that the fall of Padong, a government outpost in Xieng Khouang province dominated by the rebels, was of moral importance rather than a serious military setback for the pro-Western government in Vientiane. The Americans said there actually had been some military strengthening of the anti-Communist forces since the cease-fire was proclaimed May 3, and that the rebel forces had generally been contending that the halted their advance while cease-fire violations in Laos are inconsequential and that the truce him credit for engineering coups that he had nothing to do with. He said Iran will be lost to the West, but disclaimed any part in this.

Laos Neutrality

Laos — Khrushchev said he wasn't interested in trying to make the Laotian government Communist. He would be glad to settle for a neutral regime. Kennedy asked if the Soviet leader would help get the Geneva conference on Laos off the ground and he promised to do so.

Wars — Khrushchev said there were three kinds. He predicted that there will never be a nuclear war. He drew a rough map of the Soviet Union's land mass, fringed with satellites. If it is a conventional war, he said, "we will put five divisions, where you put one."

The third kind was a "holy war of peoples trying to overthrow tyrannical governments. Though he denied that the Soviet Union would give active backing in these, he said the Soviets will support such movements.

No Long Supply Line

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is not interested in fighting at the end of a long supply line. He said that if the United States chooses to do that—obviously a reference to Laos—that is the Americans' business.

Nuclear Testing — Khrushchev stuck firmly by his demand for "troika" control. Kennedy got the definite impression the Soviet leader is not interested in having any test ban and shows no alarm about the possible proliferation of weapons to other nations, including Communist China.

Kennedy also reported, more briefly, on his "very satisfactory" conversations with French President Charles de Gaulle. They talked in frank and cordial language.

May Hike Beer Age in State

Supporters Say It Would be Step in Right Direction

MADISON (AP)—A bill to raise the minimum age for buying beer in Wisconsin from 18 to 19 may in a showdown the United States might not defend Paris. He argued that times have changed radically since the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was formed. Then, he said, the United States had a monopoly on nuclear weapons. Now, he went on, that monopoly is gone and the United States itself is open to attack.

Kennedy replied that the United States is committed to defend France and would do so. He could accept that so far as Kennedy was concerned, De Gaulle said, but what about the Americans' business?

Missiles for NATO

De Gaulle was unimpressed by the U.S. move to provide NATO forces with Polaris missiles. He asked: Why give them to NATO, why not keep them yourselves? They are your missiles and only you can order them fired.

Despite all of this, De Gaulle was encouraging about the future strengthening of NATO. The French president believed that he might be able to attain a settlement of the Algerian question by object to the local option amendment, though some of his closest advisers said they think more time will be needed.

settle one of the hardest-fought issues of the legislative session.

Ministers, doctors and parents appeared at a Senate Governmental and Veterans' Affairs Committee hearing Wednesday to urge raising the beer age. Most supported boosting the beer age to 21, but indicated they felt moving it up to 19 would be a step in the right direction.

Social Pressure

"Nice kids are now going out and getting into trouble because of social pressure on them to drink," said Dr. James Albrecht of Jackson, a representative of the Washington County Medical Society. He favored raising the age to 21.

Sen. Casimir Kendzioriski, D-Milwaukee, sponsors of the bill raising the age to 21, said he realized his measure was "politically unpopular." But, he said, outlawing beer sales to minors is "an issue for decency."

Only nine other states allow 18-year-olds to buy beer, said Kendzioriski.

Sen. Ernest Keppler, R-Sheboygan, said earlier defeats of attempts to raise the beer buying age to 21 has given him "a realistic view" of the situation. Keppler favored his bill to raise the beer age to 19.

Witnesses said about 75 per cent of the people in the state live in areas where local option laws set the minimum age for beer purchases at 21. Representatives of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities said they want the local option right retained.

Keppler said his measure was primarily intended to make the beer sales laws uniform in Wisconsin. But he said he would not object to the local option amendment or any others that might help get his bill through the Legislature.

Let me show you how to get better roses, more continuous bloom

With roses, the surprising secret of more blooms is—more leaves! Now—with the new Scott's Rose Program—it's so easy to keep foliage strong and healthy, even a beginner enjoys success.

This amazing applicator is the key. It's called the Scott's Zephyr, and it's designed to apply new HAZE—Scott's all-in-one protection against insects and disease.

The HAZE container fits snugly in the Zephyr. Nothing to mix, measure, fill or spill. To apply, just point the deflector at the base of the rose bushes, turn the crank gently, and walk along the bed. An atomized dry mist envelops the plant—depositing a nearly invisible HAZE film on both tops and undersides of the leaves.

Come see and save. You'll find these new Scott's Rose Program products at our big SUCCESS WITH ROSES display.

Introductory offer saves you $5.00.

Cleveland Wins Ninth Straight, Increases Lead

Terry's 2-Hitter Extends Twins' Loss Chain to 13

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cleveland Indians, sweeping into the American League lead on a nine-game streak against the likes of Minnesota, Los Angeles and Washington, carry a half-game edge into Detroit tonight for a two-night doubleheader that opens a four-game series with the second place Tigers.
The Indians padded their lead beyond a percentage point margin with an 11-0 romp at Washington Wednesday night as unhealed right-hander Jim (Mudcat) Grant won his seventh with a six-hitter.
In the other AL games Wednesday, New York defeated Minnesota 5-1 on a two-hitter by Ralph Terry that plunked the Twins into the collar with their 13th straight loss, the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 4-0 behind Ted Bows-

NOTES and NOTIONS

Baseball can lay claim to a unique, and completely unenviable distinction. It is the only sport — or any endeavor, for that matter — that keeps growing slower in this jet-conscious age. Not only do aggravating delays put baseball out of step with the times, but they undoubtedly are at least partly responsible for the attendance lag in both the majors and the minors. The average time for the Fox Cities Foxes' 18 home games this season is a distressing 2 hours, 46 minutes. We sampled the same number of recent Milwaukee Braves games and found their average to be 2:38.

(The difference is due to three extra-inning games for the Foxes compared to one for the Braves.) It's not uncommon for major league doubleheaders to drag along for six hours. When you add travel time, to and from the game, it's easy to see why many persons are shying away from baseball. They simply don't want to invest that much time in a single event when there is so much else to do.

I see no reason why 2-hour baseball games can't be routine rather than rare. A few rules changes and a concerted effort by players, managers and umpires could eliminate most of the time wastes. Here are some of the steps that could be taken: (1) Make the intentional walk automatic, instead of throwing four pitches; (2) Limit the pre-inning warm-up pitches to six; (3) Force the pitcher to be in the on-deck circle when his batting turn approaches; (4) Eliminate the ritual of throwing the ball around the infield after a strikeout; (5) Put a time limit on conferences around the mound to eliminate stalls.

Pitchers' Dawdling Should be Stopped

Most important, perhaps, is the need to jack up the pitchers. Many of them have become prima donnas in their cavortings around the mound. They scrape the dirt, rough up the ball, adjust their caps and try to outwit the hitter in a private war of nerves. After resting usually 2-3-4 days between appearances, a pitcher should have recouped enough strength to keep going at a reasonable pace without resting some more on the customers' time. A football quarterback, too, has some tough targets to throw at, but once the ball is snapped, he's got to get rid of it in a hurry or be swallowed up by a wave of incoming rushers. A baseball pitcher should have time to get set and get his sign but should cut the dawdling. The rule book theoretically puts a time limit for releasing the ball — but I have yet to see an umpire enforce it. In fact, I haven't seen a 3-1 league umpire speeding up any game despite an announced campaign by League President Vern Hoscheit to do something about the problem. Other sports, such as football and basketball, which prescribe time limits for the execution of various acts continue enjoying increased attendance. Baseball, with its oversupply of "slow motion" moments, is experiencing trouble holding all of its fans and making new ones. Maybe one day, baseball men will face the problem squarely and get the game moving.

Bob Saverine, 1960 Fox Cities shortstop, is having a good season for Little Rock in the AA Southern Association. Besides hitting at a .310 clip, he already has equalled the full-season stolen base total (14) racked up last year by league leader Gene Wallace. Dave Nicholson, out on his final option, is hitting .304 for the same club. It's the best minor league performance to date for the Baltimore bonus outfielder.

Pat Pieper, who has watched Cub teams for 57 years and has been a Chicago field announcer since 1916, numbers Ernie Banks and Richie Ashburn of the current club among his all-time Bruin favorites. Others include pitchers Guy Bush, Bill Lee, Claude Passeau, Dizzy Dean, George Tyler, Lon Warneke, Charlie Root, Jim Vaughn and Pete Alexander; catchers Jimmy Archer, Gabby Hartnett and Art Wilson; infielders Charlie Grimm, Rogers Hornsby, Stan Hack, Billy Herman, Billy Jurgens and Phil Cavaretta; and outfielders Andy Pafko, Cliff Heathcote, Kiki Cuyler, Hack Wilson and Riggs Stephenson.

Tom Hadley's Adler Brau Golf tourney card of 139 was the best 36-hole competitive score in the Fox Cities area in years. Hadley, who also shot a course record-equalling 66 at Ridgeway this spring, is a dedicated golfer with a penchant for practicing. He often plays 36 holes a day.

Jabas and Strutz Defend NEW Title

Best-Ball Tournament Begins At Riverside Club Friday

The twelfth annual best-ball tournament of the Northeastern Wisconsin Golf Association will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Riverside Country Club, Marinette.
Don Jabas and Don Strutz, first twice-in-a-row champions in the meet's history, will defend their laurels.
Last year, the Appleton Butte des Morts duo defeated Sheboygan's Jimmy Lohr and Al Steffen, who won the 1960 medal, in a past tourney championship and will seek to regain the title this weekend.

Other past champions in the field are BDM's John Hayes and Al Rudolf, Waupaca's Dick Johnson and John McCormick and Sheboygan's Jim Hislop and Hans Fischer.

36 Teams to Play

A total of 36 teams (72 golfers) have signed up for the NEWGA's first major tourney of the year. Qualifying rounds will be shot Friday.

The 16 lowest-scoring teams will play in the championship bracket, beginning Saturday morning. The next 16 best scorers will be assigned to the A flight Finals in both classes will be played Sunday.

Last year, the Hislop-Fischer team won class A honors with an overtime win over Bob Ferrel and Tom Zeuthen.

Friday's starting times for four-somes including Fox Cities area golfers:
9:30—Bob Taylor & Bob Sunstrom, Riverside; Ed Pope & Gordon Meikle, John, New London.
10:00—Jim Whitford & F. Redford, Riverside; Bob Ferrel & Jim Rudolf, Butte des Morts.
10:30—Bob Smith & Hugh Higley, Riverside; Don Jabas & Don Strutz, Butte des Morts.

3:30—Elmer Dushak & Dale Simpson, Waupaca; Tom Frawley & Bill Schlosser, Butte des Morts.

State Stock Outboard Racing Association Will Meet at Kaukauna

MENASHA — The Wisconsin Stock Outboard Racing Association will hold its next meeting Wednesday night at Mayville. It will play Neenah in an exhibition test a week from Saturday.

Details will be discussed for the June 25 Outboard Marathon team tonight in the absence of and for the next club short course regatta, which will be held at Jefferson Park, Menasha, July 1-2.

Reverses Earlier Loss

Green Bay scored a singleton hits for the losers, Shepard drove in the last half of the eighth inning and edged Appleton, 9-8, in Green Bay Wednesday night in a Junior Legion baseball game.

The triumph reversed an 11-0 Appleton win Monday night.

Appleton, now 1-2 on the season, welcomes Menasha at 6:15 this evening, at Goodland Field.

Alan Krabbe started for the losers Wednesday, and hurled the first 4 and 2-3 innings. Paul Zeegers finished, and took the loss.

Jim DeWaal and winner Dick Schout hurred for Green Bay.

The winners were on top, 8-1, after four innings. But, Green Bay routed Krabbe in a 5-run fifth and tied it with a pair in the sixth. The hosts' winning run came home on a Vanderlily single and a Kaye triple.

Gary Hefpas, Tom Heller and John Shepard each had a pair of

Nottebart Goes Route for First Time, Triumphs 3-1

Dodgers Regain NL Lead as Koufax Tames Pirates, 7-3

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers, shrugging off slumps, are back on top in the National League race again, thanks to a handy guy named Sandy Koufax, who has put away four of their last eight victories.

After slipping to second with two straight setbacks by San Francisco and Pittsburgh, the Dodgers have bounced back and won two in a row, regaining a half-game lead with a 7-3 victory over the Pirates Wednesday night.

Jose Lizzandro overthrew first, the run scored and "Monty" took second. Willie Hooker relieved Lizzandro and got Jim Caldwell on a fly-out. Chuck Smiley beat out an infield hit. But, Joe Puliham hit into a force play to end the game.

Fox Cities Manager Earl Weaver and pitcher Bob Scott were ejected from the first game for arguing.

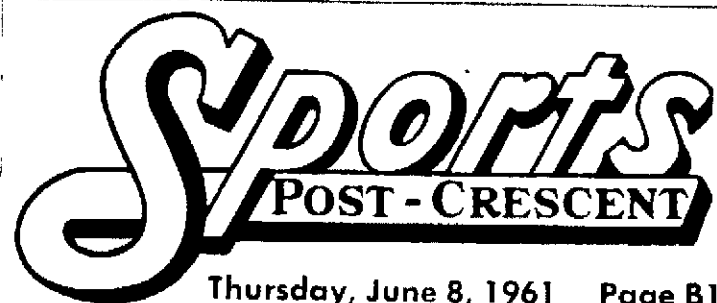

In the second game, Lincoln overcame a 4-2 deficit with a 3-run outburst in the fifth inning. Dayton Orsburn hit a 2-run double to deep left center, and Paul Higgins singled him in.

The Foxes scored one in the third on an infield out, one in the third on "Photo" Anthony's single, another in the fourth on Mont-gomery's single and chased start-linger Bob Locker with one in the fifth.

With two out in the fifth, Anthony walked, Jim Liggett singled, and "Nellie" Cochran walked to fill the bases. Locker walked Sam Bowns to force in a run. Dennis

Chiefs Win Pair From Foxes to Gain Partial Revenge for Sweep

Open Series With 3-2 and 6-4 Successes

LINCOLN, Neb. — The Lincoln Chiefs took a doubleheader from the Fox Cities Foxes, 3-2 and 6-4, here Wednesday night.

The Chiefs took a measure of revenge for the four straight beatings they took at Goodland Field last week. Tonight, the teams play a single game, with Jim Dunlap scheduled to start for Fox Cities.

Lincoln scored single runs in the first, second and sixth (the latter on Fred Loesekam's homer) to build up a 3-0 lead going into the seventh, and final, inning of the opener. The Foxes' desperate rally fell short.

Sam Bowns hit a 1-out homer in the seventh John Griffin walked. Pinch hitter Frank Montgomery sacrificed, and when pitcher Jose Lizzandro overthrew first, the run scored and "Monty" took second. Willie Hooker relieved Lizzandro and got Jim Caldwell on a fly-out. Chuck Smiley beat out an infield hit. But, Joe Puliham hit into a force play to end the game.

4-Hitter Drops Reds From Lead

CINCINNATI (AP) — Milwaukee's young Don Nottebart finally made it Wednesday night, going the distance for the first time in his major league career as the Braves toppled the Cincinnati Reds out of first place in the National League with a 3-1 victory.

The 25-year-old right-hander was in command all the way. But manager Charlie Dressen was taking no chances. Along about the eighth inning, Dressen sent veteran Lew Burdette running to the bullpen to get ready in case Nottebart needed help.

Lew could have saved himself the exercise.

In winning his third game against as many defeats, Nottebart gave up only four hits and four walks while fanning two. Only in the second, when the Reds scored their unearned run, and in the seventh did Cincinnati get two men on base.

Coleman Doubles
Dressen and Nottebart were probably taking those short breaths that come with worry in the seventh when Gordon Coleman bounced a double off the scoreboard and Gene Freese walked.

A sacrifice put runners on second and third but Nottebart got the next two batters on easy fly balls, run outburst in the fifth inning.

The Foxes scored one in the third on an infield out, one in the third on "Photo" Anthony's single, another in the fourth on Mont-gomery's single and chased start-linger Bob Locker with one in the fifth.

With two out in the fifth, Anthony walked, Jim Liggett singled, and "Nellie" Cochran walked to fill the bases. Locker walked Sam Bowns to force in a run. Dennis

Wynn Treated For Bursitis in Right Elbow

Veteran Needs Dozen More Wins To Reach 300

CHICAGO (AP)—Early Wynn's magic number is 12 and he doesn't know if he can make it this season.

The rugged 41-year-old right-hander needs a dozen more victories to reach a major league career total of 300—something only 12 pitchers have done in baseball history.

But the durable Wynn is having arm miseries. The Chicago White Sox left him home as they departed Wednesday for four games in Washington and three in Baltimore during a five-day trip. Wynn is undergoing treatment from club physician, Dr. Joseph Coyle, who describes the ailment as bursitis in the right elbow. "The doctor says he doesn't know how long the misery is going to last," said Wynn. "I hope I'm ready by the time the team gets back home."

"If I'm laid up a couple of weeks, it's sure going to hurt my chances of reaching that 300 mark this year."

Good Chance "I think I've got a good chance," Everett Wash, finished second with a 143, followed by George Dawson of Chicago with a 144, take medicine the doctor gave him. X-rays didn't show any bone chips.

"But it certainly aggravates me to have to rest."

Manager Al Lopez said he wouldn't be surprised if Wynn had to rest two weeks before getting an okay from the doctors.

Wynn has a 4-record for the season and a total of 268 victories.

He failed at a third try for No. 289 Tuesday night when pain in his elbow forced him to retire in the fourth inning against Detroit.

Wynn, who hasn't won a game since May 16, strained his elbow in the first inning against the New York Yankees May 28. The Sox, idle Wednesday after their two-game sweep from Detroit, will open their series in Washington tonight with Cal McLish (2-6) facing Dick Donovan (1-5).

Wins National Senior Title On First Try

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—"I guess," said 55-year-old Joseph Morrill Jr., today, "you have to win this thing on the first try or not at all."

Morrill, an ex-football and hockey player at Harvard, was talking about his victory in the National Senior Golf Tournament Wednesday — accomplished on his first try.

"There are always so many new players coming up," he said, "that you can get pushed into the background very easily. But my game seems to improve with age."

Morrill won the two-day tournament with a 68-74—142 for 36 holes. He played his first round at Apawamus and the second at the Westchester Country Club.

Congressman Jack Westland, of Everett, Wash., finished second with a 143, followed by George Dawson of Chicago with a 144, take medicine the doctor gave him. X-rays didn't show any bone chips.

Indian, Tiger Series May Draw 100,000

Sheffing Names Mossi, Lary to Face Cleveland

DETROIT (AP)—The war-whooping Cleveland Indians, on a nine-game rampage, and the warring Detroit Tigers open a four-game series tonight in the American League's first showdown of great the season.

First place is at stake in this modern-day Battle of Lake Erie, which is expected to attract 100,000 fans to Tiger Stadium.

The Indians come to town as new occupants of first place, holding a half-game and 13 percentage point lead over the Tigers.

Nine-Game Streak Cleveland is riding a nine-game winning streak, longest in the league this season, and has 21 victories in 25 games.

The Tigers, whose 39-day reign in first ended Tuesday, had five players in the top ten when they raced to a five-game lead in May. Now there is one, Norm Cash, with a .345 average. Slumps have sent the Tigers reeling to two straight defeats in which they totaled only one run.

Manager Bob Scheffing has named his two aces, Don Mossi (6-0) and Frank Lary (8-3), to open the series. Jimmie Dykes, who a year ago was managing the Tigers and never figured he'd be in a pennant battle, has nominated Jim Perry (3-4) and Wynn Hawkins (5-2) to start for the Indians.

If Moore Gets by Rinaldi, He'll Try to Line Up Bout With Ingo

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—If Archie Moore gets by Giulio Rinaldi Saturday night, as he is favored to, the old gent may take off for Sweden this fall for a bout with Ingemar Johansson.

"That would go real big over there," said Jack (Doc) Kearns, who handles Archie's bookings. "I've discussed the fight with Ed-Eddie Ahlquist (Johansson's adviser) and he thinks it would be a can League's first showdown of great the season."

Lot of Money "First of all it would make a lot of money for everyone," said Moore.

Ailing Carry Back Recovering Well NEW YORK (AP)—Ailing Carry Back is coming along fine and probably will start in the Choice Stakes at Monmouth Park on Aug. 2, trainer Jack Price said today.

"I think he will be perfectly all right," said Price. "I doubt if we will be able to have him well in time for the Dwyer Stakes here on July 15, though. He'll need more rest."

Carry Back, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, finished a distant seventh in the Belmont Stakes last week. He sent the Tigers reeling to two straight defeats in which they totaled only one run.

Manager Bob Scheffing has named his two aces, Don Mossi (6-0) and Frank Lary (8-3), to open the series. Jimmie Dykes, who a year ago was managing the Tigers and never figured he'd be in a pennant battle, has nominated Jim Perry (3-4) and Wynn Hawkins (5-2) to start for the Indians.

Prep Batter Strokes 15 Straight Safeties HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Outfielder Steve Wojnar of Holyoke High School went 5-for-5 against Springfield Cathedral Wednesday, giving him a streak of 15 straight hits in three games.

Roster Changes Approved by Valley League

Macs, Green Bay Make Alterations In Their Schedules

KAUKAUNA — Roster changes and several schedule alterations were approved at a meeting of the Fox River Valley Baseball League representatives Wednesday night.

The Menasha Macs changed a night game with Morrison from June 20 to June 29 and a night game with Harrison from July 27 to July 20. Both games will be at 8 p.m.

Green Bay announced it would change its night games from Thursday June 22 and Thursday July 27 to either Tuesday or Wednesday nights of the same week.

All-Star Game Selections for the all-star game and final league roster changes will be made at the next meeting scheduled for July 6 at Fond du Lac.

Players added to teams last night included: Little Chute-Kimberly, Don Hearden; Kaukauna, Leigh Wachel; Menasha, Bill Prange and "Butch" Fahrner; Milwaukee Braves announced today they had signed Arnold Umbach Jr., a right-handed pitcher from Auburn, Ala., for what a club spokesman said was a "very substantial bonus."

Umbach was assigned to the Milwaukee farm club at Vankoughen in the Pacific Coast League. He will report immediately. The Braves said that Umbach was one of the most sought-after players in the southeast. The 18-year-old Umbach is the son of the director of physical education at Auburn University. He has been attending Baylor Prep School at Chattanooga, Tenn. He's 6 feet, 175 pounds.

'Coated' Girls '9' Posts 28-20 Win Appleton Coated Paper (1-0) outscored Fox Valley Cab (0-1), 28-20, in an Appleton Recreation Department Girls Fast-Pitch Softball League game Tuesday.

Beth Almosen hurried for the winners. Sharon Fulcer for Fox Valley Cab. Both stroked five hits, including a homer. Sharon smacked four, including a circuit clout.

Luxemburg Softball Tournament Slated The thirteenth annual Luxemburg Invitational Softball Tournament, sponsored by the American Legion, will be held July 11-16.

Teams must file their entries with Bill Goetsch, 128 Jacobs Ct., Green Bay, by June 25.

Ranch Bar '9' Beats Power's, Leads League KAUKAUNA — Ranch Bar (2-0) took over first place in the "100-mch" Tavern Softball League Tuesday night by downing Power's Bar, 8-2.

Gertz Tavern rolled to a 6-0 victory over Rich's Modern Bar behind the 2-hit pitching of Bill Knapp.

Power's opened the scoring in the first inning with two runs on three hits including a triple by Ron Miller. Ranch came back to score three in the bottom of the first on two singles and three errors. Four singles and another error gave the winners three runs in the second.

Gertz clinched its win in the opening inning with three runs on two singles and two errors. Rich's managed only two singles, one in the first inning and one in the fifth.

Courthouse Gains First Place Tie On 10-6 Victory Courthouse (4-0) moved into a first place tie with Appleton Machine (1-3) in the International Industrial Softball League Tuesday with a 10-6 win over Serv-U's Bakers.

George Greisch hurled an 8-hitter for the win striking out eight and walking two Clyde Beavers, the loser, allowed 10 hits. Timothy Scheib of the winners slapped three hits in four trips for game batting honors.

as Merrill "Sonny" Filz fired a 1-hitter. The veteran performer struck out eight and walked just one. Wayne Steinberg slapped the only hit off Filz. Don Boya and Don Kullath each powdered homers, among their two hits, for Pond's.

Bleier's banked Mullins, 11-0, on "Bud" Werner's 2-hitter. Werner struck out six and walked one, Harvey Miller and Glen Nau hurried for the losers in the game, shortened to 5½ innings.

Jim Kirkland swatted three of Bleier's hits, including home runs in the first and second innings.

The Riverside-Sammy's contest was postponed because of wet grounds.

Braves Sign Pitcher to Bonus Pact MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves announced today they had signed Arnold Umbach Jr., a right-handed pitcher from Auburn, Ala., for what a club spokesman said was a "very substantial bonus."

Umbach was assigned to the Milwaukee farm club at Vankoughen in the Pacific Coast League. He will report immediately. field's five-hit pitching and Boston defeated Kansas City 6-2.

Willie Kirkland and Woodie Held hammered solo home runs in an 11-hit attack for the Indians who scored twice in the first off Pete Burnside (1-4). Grant walked but one and struck out six.

Both Minnesota hits off Terry (3-0) came in the first inning, when Billy Martin tripled and scored on a double by Lennie Green. The Yankees then exploded for all five runs in the third against Pete Ramos (3-7), tagging the right-hander with his fifth straight loss on a three-run homer by Roger Maris and a two-run homer by Yogi Berra. It was No. 17 for Maris, tops in the majors, as the Yanks set an AL record with 31 home runs in 16 consecutive games.

Hoelt Loses

Bowles (2-1) struck three, struck out three and allowed only one hit over the last seven innings. Three runs in the first inning, capped by Ken Aspromonte's two-run double, beat Billy Hoelt (1-3) and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games. Steve Bilko homered for the Angels, who took the series 3-1.

Rookie Don Schwall won his fourth without defeat for the Red Sox, allowing nine hits. Boston beat the A's and Bud Daley (4-7) with four unearned runs in the fifth inning, scoring two on Jackie Jensen's double.

Changes Forecast

Dressen May Get Good News From McHale

CINCINNATI (AP)—Milwaukee Braves manager Charlie Dressen is in a hurry to get to Chicago where he has an emergency meeting Friday with John McHale who may have good news.

After Wednesday night's 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, the depressed Dressen of the night before had regained some of the old pep. The victory certainly was partly responsible, but Dressen indicated the biggest part of the lift came from the promised session with the general manager.

"I talked with John on the phone this morning and he said he may have good news for me when the club gets to Chicago," where the Braves open a series with the Cubs Friday afternoon.

"We'll be making some changes soon," insisted Dressen, "don't worry about that."

Dressen said he was doubtful of the chances of doing any business with the Reds, now only a half a game out of first. It was suggested possibly Milwaukee was interested in Gus Bell who sometimes plays the Reds' outfield and sometimes takes a pinch batting turn.

"I don't want Bell," Charlie said. "He's over the hill."

But the Reds indicated they were interested in Milwaukee's Del Crandall, often called the top catcher in baseball.

Reds general manager Bill De Witt was visiting in the Milwaukee clubhouse trying to get an inside report on the arm trouble that has kept Crandall out of action most of the season and at home during the last two road trips.

The Cincinnati catching corps consists of rookie Jerry Zimmerman and Bob Schmidt, who has not performed as expected since he was acquired from San Francisco.

Dressen denied that Crandall's name had come up in trade talk.

Gibbs Strikes Out, Commits Error, Then Gets Five Base Hits

RICHMOND (AP)—The baseball career of bonus baby Jake Gibbs was underway Wednesday and the price may be right after all.

Gibbs, who is banking $100,000 in bonus money from the Yankees made his debut with the Richmond Virginians Tuesday night and came up with five hits, after starting off the evening by being called out on strikes and miffing his first fielding attempt at third base.

"After I struck out and made that error, I began feeling better," he said.

In other games, Sacred Heart rolled over St. John E & R, 20-7 and St. Joseph topped St. James, 11-7.

St. Pius unloaded a 17-hit attack that included four homers and five triples in thumping St. Mary. Ken Lang smacked a pair of circuit blows and Tom O'Hearn and Sam Winarski also hit homers. Lang was the winning pitcher and Harry Kimball took the loss.

Hupfaut Hits

Sacred Heart held a 10-7 lead over St. John E & R until the last inning when Sacred Heart exploded for ten runs. Jim LaCount was the winning hurler, and Tim Schibbs took the loss although he worked only one frame for the losers. Hank Hupfaut led the winners with four hits including two doubles and a triple.

St. Joseph trailed, 5-4, going into the last of the sixth and then broke the game open with seven runs. Erv Hooyman was the winning pitcher and the Rev. James Vahey was the loser. Some good fielding plays enabled St. Joseph to turn in three double plays and St. James had a pair.

Survivors include his widow, two daughters, a son, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Spikes McDonald and Harford Funeral Home, Oshkosh. Burial will be in Lakeview Memorial Park. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Friday.

Banta LL Team Wins Opener, 11-4

MENASHA — Marc Haberman allowed five hits as he hurled the Banta team to an 11-4 victory over Badger Highways in the opening Menasha Little League tussle of the season.

The game was preceded by a parade and dedication ceremonies for Rayer Field.

The parade was cut short due to a late afternoon thunder shower. The rain stopped long enough to allow the game to be played. The Menasha Little League president, Bob Cole, welcomed the fans. Mayor John Klein threw out the first ball. Bob Schulze served as the master of ceremonies.

Banta scored four times in the fourth and added seven in the fifth to clinch the affair. Haberman fanned 13 Highway batters and got one hit himself. His battery mate, Mike Heroux, and center fielder Tom Kenney paced the attack with two hits apiece.

Tom Wroblewski started for Badger Highways but was lifted in the fifth. He hit a 2-run homer in the fifth and also added a single. Steve Seidl relieved Wroblewski.

The Boxers will meet Central Paper at 5:30 today at Bayer Field. Friday night Wisconsin Tissue and Gilbert Paper will tangle at the same time.

Colts' Ray Brown Recuperates After Surgery on Knee

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Baltimore Colts' defensive safety, Ray Brown is recuperating at a hospital here after an operation on his knee that may end his football career.

Surgery on the former Mississippi star was more complicated than originally expected but Tuesday's operation was pronounced a success. However, Brown's wife said his professional football career remains uncertain. In addition to playing defensive safety, Brown handled the Colt punting and understudied quarterback Johnny Unitas.

Bob Bailey, 18, shortstop for Wilson High School, Long Beach, Calif., will sign a contract June 15, either with the Pittsburgh Pirates or the Milwaukee Braves for $200,000, it was reported today by the Fresno Bee. If true, this would give Bailey the highest bonus ever paid. Bailey graduates next week.

Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews slams into Cincinnati catcher Jerry Zimmerman trying to score from first base in the fifth inning of Wednesday night's game, but Zimmerman tagged him out. The Reds' catcher's left knee is on home plate and Mathews never got into the dish. Mathews tried to score when Hank Aaron lined a double off the center field wall but a fine relay — Vada Pinson to Don Blasingame to Zimmerman — nailed him. The Braves won the game, 3-1.

Griffith, Lavagetto to Talk Over Possible Team Changes

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—It will be some fish to the New York Yankees, carrying and golf for Calvin Griffithing them into the American and Cookie Lavagetto before they League cellar. They were tied for start to talk about what can be second before losing 18 of their done with their slumping Min- last 19 games.

Griffith, now in a 13-game losing streak, said at all, our relief pitching is terrible. "I hope to get Cookie's mind said Cookie. "We have no bench off baseball for a while," said at all, our relief pitching is terrible. Griffith as he greeted the man- rible and we need a couple of ager, recalled from New York for good starters."

Lavagetto, 48, left the team in charge of coach Sam Mele after watching Tuesday night's game from the stands. The team moved into Baltimore today for a three-game series. Griffith made the point that all American League clubs currently are short on the pitching side, "and that's what we need most."

But he added that the National League wasn't going to let anyone go, what with expansion coming up, plus the availability of a $75,000 draft price.

out allowed McMillan to score before Ed Mathews lashed a double to center, sending in Nottbart and Maye. After Hank Aaron walked, Howie Nunn replaced Hunt on the mound. Joe Adcock singled to fill the bases a second time, but Frank Thomas lined out and Torre popped out to end the threat.

In the last six innings, the Braves got only two more hits, both of them off Nunn. He also gave up a walk in his 4 2-3 innings, but his successor, Marshall Bridges blanked the Braves in the last two innings. Nunn and Bridges between them retired the last 10 Braves in order.

The Cincinnati loss to Milwaukee, combined with a Los Angeles victory over Pittsburgh dropped the Reds to second place, a half game behind the Dodgers. The Braves remained six, and are now six games off the pace.

Youngsters Often Worry Over Status of Their Health, Body

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. health. It's good for 'em. And the "Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for a 14-year-old girl to have cancer?"

These are the signs I have or had:
"1 — Loose bowel movements.
"2 — Pains on side where heart is.
"3 — Pains in legs which last two minutes.
"4 — Little lumps in groin.
"5 — Unusual discharge.
"6 — At times I am very tired and I can't seem to get enough sleep.
I am terribly worried.—K.D."

Dr. Molner

Yes, of course it is possible for a girl of 14 (or of 4, or even younger) to have cancer. It can occur at any age, but it is rare at 14. You present a formidable list of symptoms for a youngster. Many olders can't do as well.

Believe me when I assure you that I'm not laughing at you. I remember only too well the days when I (and at any age a little more than 14) was pretty thoroughly convinced that I had tuberculosis.

Young Worries
Sometimes I coughed. (Who doesn't?) Every time I gazed into a mirror I looked paler than the last time. I suspected that I was losing weight. I was "tired all the time"—except, of course, when I happened to be engrossed in something I wanted to do. I was "sure" I had TB. So sure that I even made up some brave little speeches that I was going to deliver to my friends. (Literary gems, those speeches were! Wow.)

All that was a long time ago. It is my feeling now that I would have been better off, in those days, I had been encouraged to go to the doctor once a year, or thereabouts, in the interest of getting me in the habit of doing so and clearing my mind or even my body of whatever common and miserable ailments might be present.

I'm not opposed to young people having a fair experience with the art of worrying about their health. We'll ever get to the end of this path!"

Dolphins Make Many Different Sounds

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sounds from animals, sound from humans, and the piano tones that appeal to humans are subjects for science at work:

Voices of the Sea

Dolphins, those remarkable animals of the sea, have a large and changeable repertoire of sounds that vary from clicks and whistles to quacks and blats. Furthermore they control these sounds and use them to communicate, scientists report.

Now scientists have studied the noises of restrained dolphins to see what sounds come from which situations.

A whistle from a human, for instance, brings a chorus of whistles from the dolphins. Manipulating the dolphin's body brings whistles, quacks or blats. Yet left alone dolphins seldom quack or blat.

In violent play or courtship the squawks come fairly often. Two whistles, one in crescendo, the other in decrescendo, repeated over and over are a distress signal, silencing neighbor dolphins and setting them all on a search for the distressed source.

Sound of Music

A study of soprano voices indicates that the more trained the voice, the greater its vibrato—a warbling effect—say Norwegian scientists. They studied both untrained singers and those of world fame.

When a highly trained soprano holds a note, there is also evidence that the note has irregularities in the overtones and that by standard methods—making the this too is a product of training, upper tones higher and the lower Untuned sopranos without any tones lower than in a precise great vibrato hold notes with scale of pure tones.

Where Man Began

It is now 100 per cent certain certain methods and those tuned more that man originated in Africa, precisely. The precise or perfect says Dr. L. S. B. Leakey of the ly tuned piano sounds were re-Coryndon Museum, Nairobi, Ken-ected by both groups.

Fossils from all over Africa support the theory that man evolved from the families of apes in Africa, he told a recent conference of the New York Academy of Sciences.

Do Re Mi

Piano tuners tend to stretch the scale when they tune the piano history.

Seeds of History

Tiny spores, the soft, wax-like seeds of primitive plants, can out-last the ravages of 100 million years.

Now an Emory University scientist is looking for tiny seeds in the ancient rocks of the earth to help date the rocks in the earth's history.

Salt Away Your Savings In This Cardboard Bank

BY CAPPY DICK

One of those round cardboard boxes containing salt is just the thing to use as a bank in which to salt away your space change. Being large, the empty salt box (Figure 1) can hold all the pennies, nickels and dimes you can collect. The top of the box has a ready-made slot with a metal cover that can be opened and closed. This slot is for pouring the salt out, but it is just as serviceable for pouring in the money.

Decorate the box any way you want. One way of doing it is shown in Figure 2. Remove the paper covering of the box. Then apply two coats of black enamel to the sides and top, except the metal slot cover.

Cost of Inspecting Sewers by TV Estimated at $350 Daily

A TV inspection of sewer work done by P and B Excavating, Inc., for the City of Appleton would cost approximately $350 a day, Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski told the board of public works Tuesday.

The firm has requested that the city share the cost of hiring special television equipment to make such an inspection. The firm and its attorneys believe the inspection would show that P and B does good quality work. The city's engineering department claims the company's workmanship is poor.

Duszynski said he based his figure of $350 a day on the experience of La Crosse and Neenah. Both cities have used television equipment, Duszynski said.

Look for Leaks
Neenah used it to look for leaks and to try and find unknown connections between sanitary and storm sewer systems. La Crosse used it to look for other defects, he said.

Duszynski said he did not believe a TV inspection would prove the company's claim to doing good work. "All you can see is the inside of the pipe. What's covered with ground even television equipment won't show you," he said.

The director said the television crew works a nine-hour day, and covers about 1,500 to 2,000 feet a day.

9-Hour Day
To make full use of the inspection, he said, several city officials, several members of the board of public works and several people from the engineering department would have to stay with the crew for the full nine hours every day.

"If you don't stay there every minute and watch the screen to see what the camera is picking up you might as well not make the inspection," he said.

The attorneys' letter asking for the inspection was received and filed.

'Dry' Forces Against 19 Year Old Beer Law

Bill Now Before Legislature Based on Welfare Department Recommendations

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The new legislative bill to raise the legal age for beer consumption from 18 to 19 years on a state-wide basis may encounter the opposition of conservatives on the drinking question, according to surprise developments in the legislature.

Sen. Davis Donnelly of Eau Claire, known as one of the most vigorous of the "drys" in legislative politics, denounced the 19 year old bill as a kind of oblique effort of the "beer lobby" to break down the 21 year old ordinances now in effect in some of the cities and villages of the state.

"They'll be able to sell three times as much beer to teen-agers by passing this bill and eliminating local option and the 21 year ordinances," he said indignantly.

Donnelly also ridiculed Sen. Leo P. O'Brien of Green Bay for being one of the authors of the 19 year old bill, noting that O'Brien as chairman of a senate committee has refused to report out for a vote a state-wide 21 year old drinking regulation that has reposed in his committee for many weeks.

Wrong Impression
Donnelly said many persons have the wrong impression about the 19 year proposal, and that actually it is something that the beer manufacturing and distributing interests of the state want.

(Irving Ott, legislative representative for the Wisconsin Brewers Association, told a reporter after the senate incident that his association has not yet taken a position on the legislation, but that it will probably not oppose the bill.)

Sen. Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan, principal author of the bill, told Donnelly that he had introduced it because the state welfare department in a special report told the legislature that the problem of teen-age drinking is principally that involving the high school student. A 19 year minimum would eliminate high school student drinking, it said.

O'Brien told the senate that he has scheduled a hearing on the Keppler bill for Wednesday, June 7, and invited "dogooders" of all persuasions to attend that meeting to advise the legislature on their wishes.

Jap Students, Workers Continue Attacks on Anti-Violence Bill

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of Socialist-led students and workers kept up demonstrations in Tokyo Wednesday, demanding that an anti-violence bill shelved by the government be killed outright.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda was forced into retreat by strong opposition from upper house members of his own Liberal-Democratic Party following riots in Tokyo and Kyoto Tuesday night in which 600 or more demonstrators and police were injured.

The prime minister, anxious to quiet dissension before his visit to President Kennedy later this month, abandoned plans to force the measure through the Diet before its session ends today.

The Socialists, Japan's No. 2 party, were not satisfied and demanded that the bill to stamp out political rioting be withdrawn.

Their campaign appeared to be losing steam, however. Although they called for 35,000 to march on the diet Wednesday, only 9,500 union members and 3,500 extremist students turned out in separate groups.

Fireworks Over Schumacher's Job

Hearing on Conservation Post for Shawano Lawyer Brings Bitter Foe

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—Two prominent Republican legislative figures Wednesday endorsed Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson's choice of Jack J. Schumacher of Shawano for a seat on the Conservation Commission to replace a Republican incumbent, during a stormy hearing before the state senate committee on conservation.

But a fellow lawyer from Shawano, Orville Luckenbach, enlivened the meeting with a bitter personal attack on Schumacher and a demand that the legislature investigate the candidate's personal and professional record before confirming him for a place on the six-member board that rules the giant Wisconsin conservation program.

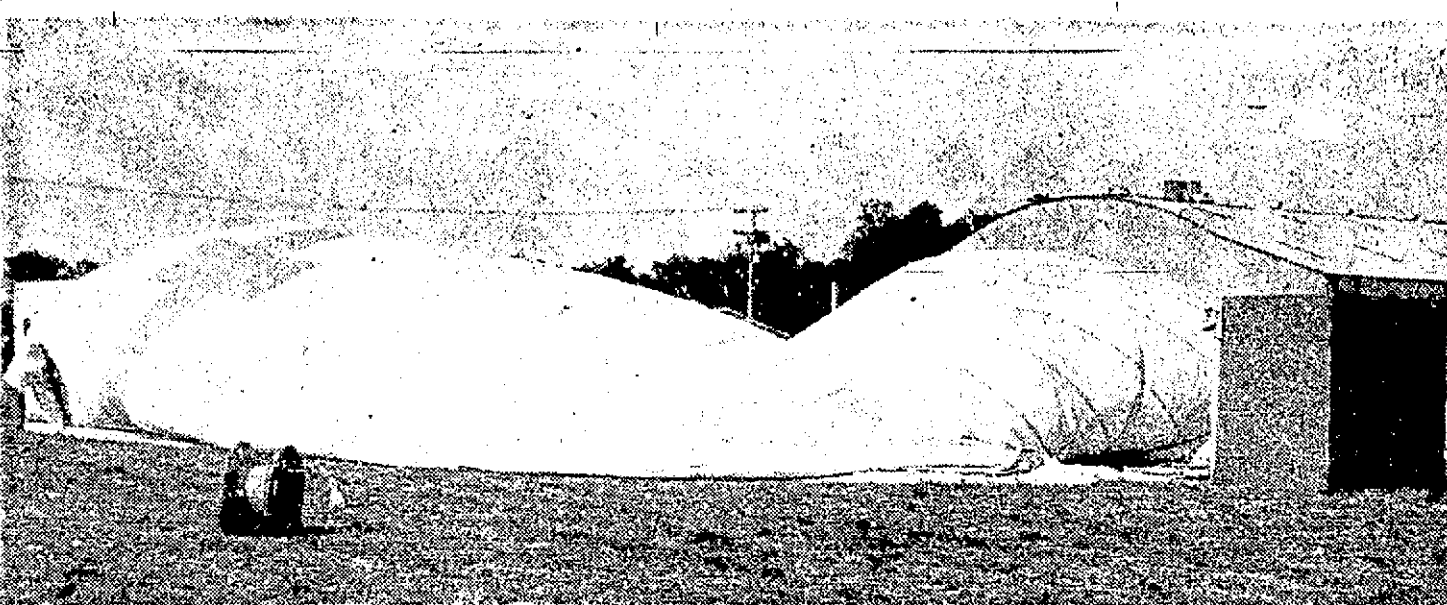

Luckenbach charged that Schumacher is unqualified as a conservationist for the coveted commission office.

Some Endorsement
The committee also considered Nelson's nomination of James R. Smaby, a LaCrosse trucking company executive, for another commission seat but the testimony about him was brief and perfunctory.

Schumacher won endorsements from Robert Marotz, a former law associate in the Shawano law practice, who is now a key figure in the Republican legislature as chief clerk of the state assembly, and from Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto who told the committee that the Northeastern Wisconsin Conservation Council embracing clubs in nine counties has endorsed Schumacher.

Schumacher sat in the hearing room after he had appeared briefly on his own behalf, and sprang to his feet as Luckenbach began his attack to demand that the senate committee clerk make a transcript of his critic's testimony which he called "libelous."

Not a Student
Luckenbach complained that Schumacher has refused to join the Shawano County Bar Association, which brought a bristling comment from Sen. Carl Thompson of Dane County, a Democrat

Newest Addition to the West College Avenue skyline is an "airatorium," being put up by the Seventh Day Adventists for a series of meetings. The structure and a lawyer. Thompson said he has not always belonged to the bar association, but that he does not feel that disqualifies him from public office.

Luckenbach told the committee that the conservation commission needs "dedicated souls" and that Schumacher is "not a student of the flora and fauna."

He challenged the committee to interview central Wisconsin lawyers and judges about the qualifications of Nelson's nominee.

Schumacher told the committee that he welcomes an investigation of "whatever they accused me of." He said Luckenbach has been a querulous person since they were boys together in grade school "and he hasn't changed any."

Marotz told how he had "read" law in Schumacher's Shawano office nearly 20 years ago, an opportunity that later led to his successful writing in the state bar examinations. The candidate is known throughout the district for his dedication to conservation purposes, he said.

LaFave in a fiery oration denounced Schumacher's critics as gossips, and said both of Nelson's choices for the commission "are as good as any commissioners chosen by my party." LaFave is a Republican.

Nelson chose Schumacher to replace R. D. Stouffer of Shell Lake, and Smaby to replace Arthur McArthur of Janesville, Republican - appointed commissioners whose terms expire next month.

Poorly Educated Will Have Little Chance for Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy warns that there will be fewer and fewer jobs in the next 10 years for young people who are poorly educated and maladjusted.

He called Wednesday night for efforts to guide the nation's youth toward good educations, skills and good citizenship.

Slow Work
Kennedy spoke at fund raising dinner for Big Brothers of the National Capital Area, Inc. Under the Big Brother movement — which operates in the United States and Canada — boys from fatherless homes are given guidance and friendship of men of good character.

"Many ask what I mean when I speak of what we can do for America," the president said. "This is the kind of thing I mean." It is slow work, he said, unspectacular as compared to going "ashore on some bombarded beach," but still important.

To underscore the need for guidance, he cited estimates that in the next decade 7.5 million youths will drop out of school — 2.5 million of them before finishing eighth grade.

But in that period, he said, 26 million young people will enter the labor force, and yet jobs will be fewer and fewer for "the semi-skilled, the less well-educated, the less well-adjusted."

Lyndon B. Johnson's Job Is to Travel Spreading Good Cheer

Vice President Becomes Ice-Cream Man of Kennedy's Administration

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has become the ice-cream man of the Kennedy administration.

He travels into all kinds of neighborhoods, spreading good cheer.

Busy, busy, busy. That was his life until he became vice president last January.

He wanted to be busy. He wanted to run things. And, as boss of the Senate Democrats, Johnson had a job made to order for him.

He stayed busy for years running the Senate. Then, suddenly, when he became vice president, he had to take a back seat.

He had a boss now, Kennedy, who was younger, and strong-willed, and had beaten him for the presidency. And Kennedy left no doubt who was No. 1 man.

Full of Energy

And even in the Senate there was a new boss: Mike Mansfield of Montana, majority leader of the Democrats.

Johnson couldn't, if he wanted to, push Mansfield around, or interfere, or kibitz, without an explosion.

Yet Johnson, full of fierce energy, was like a lot of politicians — full of ego.

How to make the best use of him? This was a problem for Kennedy. What would you have done if you were Kennedy? Probably what he did. It was a natural.

He found a way to keep Johnson happy while making use of him. He kept him busy.

Startling Pace

Although Johnson had a severe heart attack in 1955, just a few weeks before President Eisenhower had his, he's been hitting a startling pace for months. He hit it during the presidential race, campaigning hard. And right after the election he lit out for Europe and a NATO conference.

Then there was a lull, right after Kennedy and Johnson took office Jan. 20, when the vice president, with nothing much to do, seemed in total eclipse.

It didn't last long. Kennedy sent him on a 13,000-mile tour of Africa and Europe as a goodwill spreader.

Many Speeches

In May he sent him on a 20,000-mile journey through South-east Asia and the Middle East to spread more of the same.

Shriver Calls for 50,000 Corpsmen

CHICAGO (AP)—A plea to lend 50,000 skilled Americans to work with the Peace Corps in underdeveloped nations has drawn prompt endorsement from most organized labor and generally favorable reaction from industry.

But many business leaders qualified their support of Wednesday's appeal by R. Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Peace Corps.

Shriver, in a commencement address at De Paul University, plished anything on his journey.

But some 12 hours earlier when an electric heating pad short-circuited and set fire to bed clothes.

Appleton Gets Award From Safety Council

The National Safety Council has given Appleton an award for its good accident prevention program and for the low traffic fatality rate in the city.

Mayor Mitchell received a telegram from G. C. Stewart, executive vice president of the council, announcing the award. The telegram did not say if the city would receive a plaque of any kind.

The last traffic fatality in the city was on Nov. 13, 1960, when a Menasha man died as the result of a motorcycle accident on the Memorial Drive bridge.

Dies of Burns

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mrs. Frances Russell, 63, died Wednesday night of burns suffered in her home at suburban Wauwatosa some 12 hours earlier when an electric heating pad short-circuited and set fire to bed clothes.

Sure Sign of Summer--Ripe Strawberries

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

When plump, ruby-red strawberries are in season it's a sure sign that summer has arrived at last. Although they have become more and more of a year-round fruit . . . especially with frozen berries in abundance during the winter months . . . it's the sun-ripened strawberry, fresh from farmer's garden or back-yard patch, that has a special, mouth-watering goodness.

At the moment, the plump berries now in Fox Cities markets are from Indiana and southern states where the season is ahead of ours . . . but in about three weeks Wisconsin berries will begin to come to the stores. Weather permitting, they'll reach their peak in time for Fourth of July feasting.

Although strawberries are delicious alone, it's fun to figure out ways to serve them differently. Traditionally they are teammates with sugar and rich cream . . . with fluffy whipped cream . . . or served in the old American favorite . . . strawberry shortcake.

Here are some new ideas . . . four luscious desserts that show an imaginative use of the familiar and popular berry.

Glazed Strawberry Eclair
1 pint fresh strawberries
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons lemon juice
4 shredded wheat biscuits
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Wash and hull berries. Save out eight berries. Mash remaining berries with a fork.
Combine sugar, cornstarch and water in a saucepan. Heat to boiling point, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and lemon juice. Cool.
Split shredded wheat biscuits along side seams carefully, using point of a sharp knife. Spoon half of strawberry sauce over bottom halves of biscuits on serving plates. Spread with whipped cream. Replace tops of biscuits and spoon remaining whipped cream and sauce over them. Slice reserved berries and use as garnish.

Strawberry-Orange Ambrosia
1 pint strawberries
¾ cup sugar
3 oranges, sectioned
grated coconut
Wash and hull strawberries. Reserve six whole berries for garnish. Cut rest of berries in halves and sprinkle with sugar; set aside in refrigerator. Peel oranges and cut into sections.
Fill sherbet glasses with alternate layers of sugared strawberries, orange sections and grated coconut. Garnish each with a whole berry, which may be left capped for attractiveness.

Strawberry Creme
¾ cup evaporated milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup slivered almonds, toasted
1 cup sweetened strawberries, crushed
Chill evaporated milk in ice tray until frozen around the edges. Chill ½-quart mixing bowl and beater.

Place ice cold milk and sugar into cold bowl. Whip until fluffy (an electric beater is best). Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff.

Fold in almonds and crushed strawberries. Spoon into dessert dishes and chill until ready to eat.

Here is the waffle recipe preferred by the president:

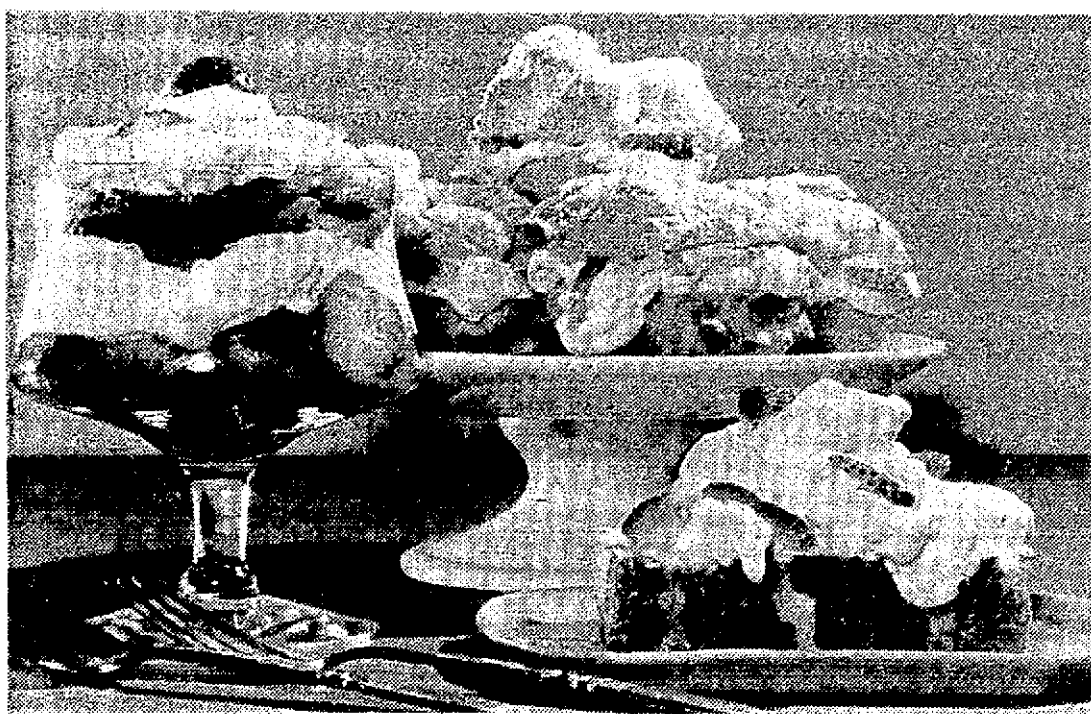

Cream one-half cup of butter with one tablespoon of sugar. Add two egg yolks and beat. Add seven-eighths cup of milk or one cup of buttermilk alternately with one cup plus one tablespoon of sifted cake flour and a pinch of salt.

When ready to bake, fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites and four teaspoons of baking powder. Batter should be light and fluffy. Bake on preheated waffle iron. Serve with hot maple syrup and melted butter.

The Combination of Fresh strawberries and oranges has been a famous one for generations. In this delightful Strawberry-Orange Ambrosia sweetened berry halves are layered into sherbet glasses with orange sections and grated coconut.

Here's An Idea That lends itself to entertaining for the one o'clock dessert bridge. Neither a real eclair nor a strawberry shortcake, Glazed Strawberry Eclair is a version of both of these favorites. Rich strawberry sauce and whipped cream fill the centers of split shredded wheat biscuits and the fruit sauce and fluffy cream is used as a topping, too. Garnish with sliced berries.

Crushed Sweetened Strawberries, slivered toasted almonds and whipped evaporated milk make a flavorful mixture that may be served as a dessert by itself . . . as a filling for cream puffs or a topping for cake slices.

All-Male Cookbook

Kennedy, Other VIPs Choose Recipes as 'Kitchen Kings'

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy may be using the new White House family kitchen personally these days. A cookbook published recently indicates that his specialty is waffles.

A waffle recipe is the one credited to the chief executive in "Kings in the Kitchen" (Barnes), a collection of favorite recipes of famous men. However, 44 of the other 176 contributors handed over two or more of their favorites to author Gertrude Booth.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, provided directions for chili con carne. Chief Justice Earl Warren cast doubt on his status as a working chef but took the prize for gallantry by naming his wife's recipe for devil's food cake as his favorite.

Other contributors included former President Eisenhower, with vegetable-meat soup and his much-published formula for beef stew; the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, baked lake trout, and U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman with three recipes — date pudding, savory roast veal, and clams in onion-cream sauce.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville

L. Freeman nominated oatmeal crispies (ice box cookies) and wild rice in consommé. Rocket scientist Werner Von Braun's choice reflected his German heritage—stuffed cabbage with sour cream.

Some of the fanciest recipes came from westerners. Former South Dakota Gov. Joseph E. Foss contributed roast wild duck with wild rice dressing; Ernest W. McFarland, former governor of Arizona, chicken curry Jaipur; and former Nevada Gov. Charles H. Russell, venison mince meat.

Not all contributors are government officials. Others include foreign and American diplomats, educators, newsmen, active and retired military chiefs, business and industrial leaders, and entertainers.

Some of the highest placed men have the simplest tastes. Both FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, named popover recipes as their favorites. Former United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge picked broiled lamb chops with celery salt and pepper.

Whether all these gentlemen actually cook their favorite foods is debatable. In an ambiguous foreword, the author says men are better cooks than women and have cooked longer than women. But the anonymous author of the dust jacket blur identifies contributors as Sunday chefs, bachelors who do their own cooking, and others who "probably wouldn't know a sifter from a simmer," all serve. Chilling should be at least 30 minutes.

For variety, Strawberry Creme may be used to fill cream puffs or top cake slices. Other fresh berries, such as raspberries or blueberries, may be used instead of strawberries in this recipe.

Petal Cheese Cake
6-ounce pkg. zweibach
½ cup butter, softened
2 tablespoons sugar
24 ounces cream cheese
3 eggs
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

3-ounce pkg. strawberry gelatin
1½ cups boiling water
1 pkg. frozen sliced peaches, thawed and drained large fresh strawberries, cut in halves

Roll zweibach finely into crumbs. Blend crumbs, softened butter and sugar. Press firmly against bottom and sides of 9-inch spring form pan.
Blend softened cream cheese, eggs, sugar and vanilla. Pour into crust. Bake in 375-degree oven for about 40 minutes. Cool.
Dissolve strawberry flavored gelatin in boiling water; cool until syrupy. Arrange peach slices in a ring around edge of cooled cake. Place strawberry halves petal fashion (overlapping) in center. Spoon gelatin over fruit. Chill thoroughly.

Cigarette Holders Need Scrubbing

Every cigarette holder needs to be washed in warm, sudsy water once a week or so. Take the holder apart to make sure the lather reaches all the recesses. Then use a small, stiff brush and several pipe cleaners to coax out tobacco hidden in the cracks and crannies. Rinse well with lukewarm water and wipe dry.

Darlene Ann Lopas Becomes Bride

Miss Darlene Ann Lopas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Lopas, 417 W. 10th St., Kaukauna, became the bride of Ronald Henry Paalman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Paalman, route 1, Menasha, at 2 p.m. today.

The Rev. Paul Th. Oehlert officiated at the double ring ceremony at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kaukauna.

Miss Charlene Donnermeyer, Kaukauna, was maid of honor and Miss Betty Schabo, Appleton, and Miss Jean Case, Kimberly, were bridesmaids. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Kathe Paalman, was miniature bride.

Best man was Kenneth Lopas, Kaukauna, brother of the bride, and groomsmen were Eugene Paalman, Appleton, and Gerald Wyngaard, Kimberly, cousins of the bridegroom. Ushering duties were shared by James Paalman, Menasha, brother of the bridegroom, and Michael Belling, Neenah, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Paalman

A supper, reception and dance will be at Van Abel's Restaurant in Hollandtown, after which the couple will leave for a wedding trip through southern Wisconsin. They will reside at 1332½ W. Lawrence St.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and is employed at Rock Finance Co. Her husband was graduated from Kimberly High School and is working at Appleton Machine Corp.

Golfers Tell Flight Winners

Mrs. Harold Baerenwald, Mrs. Leonard Burhans and Mrs. Harold Donnelly were A flight winners when Good Fellowship League opened its golf season at 8 a.m. Wednesday at Reid Municipal Golf Course. B flight winner was Mrs. Harvey LeDain.

Winner of C flight was Mrs. Jerome Capitaine; D flight, Mrs. Earl Harder. Low putts were scored by Mrs. Donnelly and Mrs. Rocklin Gmeiner. Mrs. Harold Krueger scored a birdie on sixth hole and Mrs. Carlton Campshire sank an approach shot on the fifth hole.

Coed Elected

Miss Mary Urban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Urban, 116 E. Frances St., was recently elected president of Masques, a drama club at Alverno College, Milwaukee.

Dress Influences Attitude, Behavior of Adolescents

BY ANGELO PATRI

Clothes for runabout, pre-school children should be as simple as possible and very easy for them to put on. One of the first accomplishments we hope these children acquire is the knack of dressing themselves. Since their hands are not yet developed to where they can button and unbutton things or tie knots, if they clothes demand these skills, the children will not learn to get into their clothes without a great deal of struggle and help from the adults in the family.

There are pants that have elastic bands that allow slipping them on and off and little shirts that have neither button nor belt. Give such garments the small ones soon learn to get them on right side out and top side up. For outdoor play nothing is better than simple shirt and overalls. Boys and girls alike enjoy these easy to put on, easy to wear, easy to play in clothes. They allow all the freedom of motion, and that means a great deal for these children who must move to keep on growing. There is also no fear of soiling them, as they can be tossed into the washing machine with never a worry as to their coming out again in wearable fashion.

But the same does not hold true for the school children, especially not for the high school group. School is the place of education, and that calls for dignity. Dignity commands a certain regard in What May Be a Record in loyalty to the 'old school tie' was carried on when 1904 graduates of Appleton's old Third Ward School held their 57th reunion Saturday evening at Jake Skall's Colonial Wonder Bar. Five of the original 22 graduates live in distant states. Those who have met annually since 1954 are Mrs. Kate Woehler, Mrs. Nina Harwood, Mrs. Zetelle Abendroth, Dale Fadner, Mrs. Lilly Albrecht, Miss Jennie Moser, Mrs. Laura DeLong, Mrs. Emma Luben and Mrs. Altha Christenson. Above are Mrs. Woehler, Mrs. Luben, Fadner, Mrs. DeLong and Mrs. Albrecht.

dress. Just as the priest wears vestments, the judge his robes, the professor his cap and gown, in support of the dignity of their positions, I believe that the teacher should wear clothes that dignify his position; his cap and gown would not be out of place in a classroom, especially in the secondary schools. Pupils should dress in the same tone.

Good Taste Important
I am not asking for elaborate clothes. Far from it. What we need is simple, washable, easy to wear clothes that allow the children to forget they are wearing them. Expensive clothes are out of place in school. The club and gang uniforms are absolutely out of place and are not to be allowed. Blue jeans, as well as tight sweaters for high school girls are also completely out of order.

Good taste in clothes means that they suit the occasion. School is primarily a workshop in letters, then in vocational activities, sports, science laboratories, etc.; the right clothes should be selected for each activity. This holds from kindergarten through the last college or university class. Clothes have influence on emotion, character and accomplishment.

Marion Setting for Wedding

St. Paul Lutheran Church, Marion, was the setting at 3 p.m. Sunday for the marriage of Miss Joann Sprenger, route 1, Marion, and Darrell Polzin, Marion. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl Stubenvoll. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sprenger and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Polzin.

The bride chose Miss Jane Lucht as her honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Sprenger, aunt of the bride, and Miss Marilyn Riemer, the bride's cousin. Junior aide was the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Jane Genskou.

William Polzin was his cousin's best man. William Sprenger and Daryl Olmstead performed the duties of groomsmen. Ushers were Walter Sprenger, cousin of the bride, and Larry Genskou, the bridegroom's cousin.

Dinner was served at 4:30 p.m. at Caroline Ballroom. A reception and dance were also held there. After the bridegroom returns from National Guard duty at Camp McCoy, the couple will honeymoon in New York and New Jersey. They will live at Marion. The bride, a graduate of Marion High School, is a stenographer at Nolan Sales, Marion. Her husband, also an alumnus of Marion High School, is employed at Marion Plywood and Veneer.

Mrs. Darrell Polzin

Newlyweds Travel to Nantucket

Nantucket Island is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walter Rahn, who were married at 2 p.m. Saturday at St. John Lutheran church, Pulaski. The Rev. T. J. Broetzman officiated.

The bride, the former Miss Joyce Elaine Bonnin, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Bonnin, Pulaski. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Rahn, Black Creek.

Miss June Bonnin, cousin of the bride, Pulaski, served as maid of honor. Miss Beverly Erickson, Pulaski; Miss Janice Kahler, cousin of the bridegroom, Appleton; and Miss Jane Schreiber, Pulaski, were bridesmaids. Flower girl was Miss Luanne Bonnin, Zacksow.

Leroy Rahn, Appleton, was best man for his brother. Kenneth Rahn, cousin of the bridegroom, Appleton; Robert Sliede, cousin of the bride, Pulaski, and Gary Wegner, Pulaski, acted as male attendants. Marvin Hintz and Harlan Wegner served as ushers.

A wedding reception and buffet were held at Red Banks Supper club on Saturday evening.

The bride graduated from Pulaski High school and attended the University of Wisconsin Extension Center in Green Bay and the Automation Institute, Milwaukee. She was an employee of Northern Shoe company, Pulaski. Her husband graduated from Seymour High school and the Automation Institute, Milwaukee. He is employed at Mirror Aluminum company, Manitowoc.

After their honeymoon, the newlyweds will live in Manitowoc.

Mexican Berries

Mexican strawberries flow into the U.S. at an increasing rate. Mexican processors, with much lower labor costs than their U.S. competitors, are offering fresh berries in the U.S. at 15 1/2 cents a pound. U.S. processors say their costs alone run more than 20 cents a pound. Imports of berries from Mexico in the first quarter totaled 8 million pounds, more than triple the figure for a year earlier.

Your Problems

Disaster Invited When Children Left Alone, Mother Agrees

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thank you for printing the column on mothers who run next door "for five minutes" and while she's gone the house burns to the ground and small children perish in the fire. It's about time somebody said it.

I know five mothers within Landers hollering distance who are guilty of this. My next door neighbor leaves her 8-year-old daughter in charge of four young ones (including a two-month-old baby) while she goes to her "Mother's Club" every Saturday afternoon. She thinks this makes her a good mother.

I showed your column to one of my close friends who also leaves her small children alone at night. She said, "My children will grow up self-reliant and independent. Yours will be clinging vines." Do you wish to comment?—A Reader

Dear Reader: One of the challenges of parenthood is knowing where to draw the line between being over-protective and derelict. It is true that when parents smother children with over-protection the youngsters grow up to be emotional cripples. But it is vastly important that their physical safety be assured so that they will grow up.

A mature, responsible 12-year-old should be able to care for younger brothers and sisters in the absence of parents. But I don't think children under this age should be left alone, afternoon or evening.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My neighbor took her 7-year-old daughter to the hospital to have her tonsils removed. She told the child she was taking her to visit a sick friend.

When they reached the hospital the little girl was turned over to a nurse and, needless to say, she carried on something awful. Another mother who happened to be in the corridor told my neighbor that she had done a terrible thing, and they got into quite an argument.

I think the woman was absolutely right but my neighbor claims she handled it in the best way. According to her, the child would have been a nervous wreck for days if she had been told in advance of the operation. Is this right?—Third Party

Dear Third: Your neighbor was wrong. Lying is the worst possible approach. It destroys a child's confidence and compounds the fear because the youngster doesn't know what is happening to him. Every child should be emotionally prepared in advance for hospitalization. If parents don't know how to do it they should seek the advice of a doctor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Ailing House Treatment Given for Concrete

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What is mixed into cement so that when rock salt is used on sidewalks and steps, it won't harm the cement?

A: Nothing is mixed into the cement; but the following treatment protects the surface against erosion from salt: Brush or spray on (using a pressure garden sprayer) a warm solution of equal parts of boiled linseed oil and turpentine. Because of the fire hazard, do not warm this over an open flame, but put the container with the solution into very hot water for about 20 minutes. Allow the almost colorless coating to dry for about 8 hours, then apply a second coat. Outdoor temperature should be above 50 degrees for best results.

Removing Paint.

Q: We are buying a house that has a granite fireplace; the present owners painted this. Can the paint be removed without damaging the surface of the granite?

A: Because of the porous nature of granite it may be impossible to completely remove the present paint coating. Try removing paint from an inconspicuous corner, using paste type paint remover, to see how successful this method would be. More effective method might be to have the stone sandblasted by a building cleaning contractor.

SOILED KITCHEN TILE

Q: I have an old-fashioned kitchen with white tile around the walls which has become very

Liquids Key to Skin Loveliness

To achieve a beautiful complexion, you need plenty of liquids — both inside and out. This includes drinking at least six glasses of water per day, plus fruit juices and at least one glass of milk. Externally, your skin needs daily bathing with plenty of soap-suds to wash away soil and oily secretions. This lets the skin "breathe," and removes possible sources of blemishes. While washing, massage the lather on with upward motions. Combining stimulation with soapsuds produces maximum benefits from this daily beauty treatment.

Don't Make Cruel Guess On Bidding

Sometimes an absurdly simple precaution will relieve you of an agonizing guess.

The bidding was brief, but stirring. The play took more time and is guaranteed to tear at your heartstrings.

Declarer won the opening diamond lead and went after dummy's long hearts lickety-split. But then South had to decide what to discard on dummy's queen of hearts.

There was no need to worry if the hearts were going to break favorably; South would have tricks to burn. But if the hearts were not going to break, South would need a fourth spade or a fourth club for his thirteenth trick.

Guesses Wrong

As you might suppose, a player who had bungled matters thus far was not suddenly going to make the right guess. South discarded a club, reasoning that the spades would produce a fourth trick even if the suit broke 4-2, provided the jack were doubled. The clubs would produce a fourth trick only with a 3-3 break.

This is the time for tears. Neither spades nor hearts broke and South was down one at his grand slam contract.

Of course you've seen the simple precaution that would have saved the agony and grand slam. South should cash his top cards in both black suits before tackling the hearts. If either black suit breaks, he will know about it beforehand. There will be no need to guess.

In fact, even if neither suit breaks South is still alive and breathing. Declarer takes the other top diamonds, discarding a low heart from dummy. If the defender with four hearts also has the only stopper in either black suit, he will be squeezed.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S—A K 10, H—K 2 10 6 3, D—2 10, C—A K 5.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. The hand is not quite strong enough for an opening bid of two no-trump—and far from the strength needed for two of a suit. Bid one of the best suit and prepare for a vigorous rebid.

A Lovelier You

Youthful Chinline

A lovely asks: What can be done for a chin that is both heavy and crepey? One problem would be bad enough. Two's too many!

The Answer: The double difficulty is not insurmountable. Not if you use double dips of effort and patience!

Untiringly followed, this method produces noticeable results in three months:

1. Exercise the chin and throat muscles for two minutes, night and morning. Workouts both reduce and firm flesh. As a top-flight routine, place the fingertips well out on the cheek bones, gently draw the skin upward, and at the same time drop the jaw; hold position for five counts, relax and repeat.

2. Check your weight. Excess poundage and excess chins are inseparable. Beware, though, of trying to lose overages in too

Pair to Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Van Hoof will be observed at a mass of thanksgiving at 11 a.m. Sunday at St. Nicholas Catholic Church. The Rev. Robert Smith, newly-ordained grandson of the couple, will celebrate the mass.

A dinner and reception will be held in the church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Hoof were married May 23, 1911, at St. Nicholas Church. Mr. Van Hoof farmed until his retirement in 1946.

The couple has four children: Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mrs. Harold Vandenberg and Mrs. Weldon Huss, Freedom, and Mrs. Raymond Schleck, Elmhurst, Ill. They also have 19 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

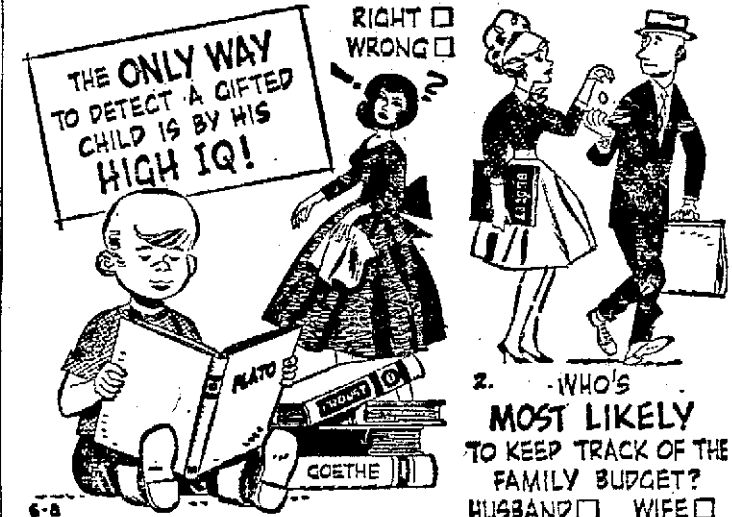

short a time. A quick drop in weight only exaggerates a crepey skin condition. For you, the successful diet plan aims at a reduction of two pounds, weekly, and provides a maximum amount of protein and vitamins.

3. Give the skin specialized care. Massage in a rich cream or oil before retiring. On arising "spank" with an absorbent cotton patter, dampened with cold water or chilled witch hazel. Several times weekly, apply a mask with stimulating and astringent properties. Or if you prefer, use a stimulation cream. Combined, these cosmetic applications, tone and smooth the chin's complexion. Dislodge flesh, too!

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

The only way to detect a gifted child is by his high IQ!

Wrong. Dr. Robert Havighurst says there are four ways. Some gifted children are recognized for their intelligence well above average. Others are spotted for their artistic talent in music, drawing or writing. The third group of children has unusual ability in social leadership — a gift for getting along with people effectively. A fourth kind of gifted child has great ability to find new ways of doing things — an inventive or creative bent. All children should be given opportunities to develop their special abilities to their full potential.

Who's most likely to keep track of the family budget?

The husband is most likely to, but usually it is the person with the most education. Studies show, however, that a man who gets as much as $7,000 a year is usually smart enough to keep his own books and is more likely to do so than his wife. Another reason is that with higher incomes, more money may be saved, and problems of insurance and investment becomes more important. Since the husband is usually more interested in these things, his role becomes increasingly important.

Village Scouts, Brownies Mark Anniversary

COMBINED LOCKS—Members of Brownie Scout Troop 103 and Girl Scout Troop 285 marked the anniversary of Girl Scouting by planting flowers around the village hall recently.

gold Girl Scout colors. Mrs. James Schroeder directs the Brownie troop while Mrs. Robert Hella and Mrs. William Voights lead the Girl Scout unit.

Nine members of the Brownie Troop were graduated into Girl Scout work in an outdoor fly-up ceremony recently with Mrs. Edward Loewenhagen and Mrs. Fred Wagnitz to lead the new group. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

Works Board Okays $16,700 Sewer Project

Duszynski Loses Move to Reject P and B Firm Bid

Bids were opened and contracts approved by Appleton's board of public works Tuesday for storm sewer construction, a $550,000 corporate purpose bond issue and gasoline for city vehicles.

Charles Green and Son, Appleton, was the lowest of four bidders for the storm sewer work in Pierce Park and the E South River Street area. The bid was $16,710. Highest of the four bids was $20,091.

Before bids were opened Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski asked rejection of a bid by P and B Excavating, Inc. The motion lost by a 4 to 2 vote.

Duszynski has said he always will ask rejection of bids by P and B, because his department believes the firm does poor work. The firm has been fighting the claims of poor workmanship, saying it is not being treated fairly.

Second Highest
The bid by P and B was the second highest of the four, at $19,212.

Low bidder for the $550,000 bond issue was Shearson, Hammill and Co., Chicago, with a net interest rate of 3.2518 per cent. There were six bidders for the bonds. Highest interest rate was 3.3087 per cent.

The bond issue will provide $240,000 for the addition to Foster School, and $310,000 for storm and sanitary sewers to be installed this year.

Empire Petroleum Co., Sheboygan, was the lowest of six accepted bids for gasoline, with a price of 12.13 cents a gallon. (The city is exempt from state and federal gasoline taxes.)

The highest bid was 12.94 cents a gallon. Two proposals were rejected, because one was not on a city bid form, and the other did not give a firm price.

Insurance Plan
Carl Sherry, Appleton insurance agent, appeared before the board to offer a wage assurance plan for city workers, who are injured or become ill when they are not on the job.

City police have requested such a plan to supplement sick leave and insurance that covers them while on the job. The plan proposed by Sherry would cost the city between $4,000 and $5,000 a year, it was estimated. The city and employees would share the cost.

Board members said they would study the plan and make a decision later.

Gavin Takes Wife to Site of French Landing

SAINTE-MERE - Eglise, France (AP) — US Ambassador James M. Gavin, surrounded by veterans of the 505th Airborne Parachute Regiment that he commanded in the World War II D-Day landings, attended ceremonies Tuesday marking the 17th anniversary of the Allied invasion of Normandy.

Gavin, who parachuted here on June 6, 1944, took his wife to see the tree by which he landed. She struggled on high heels through the Normandy mud.

"The last time I came this way, I was crawling on my stomach, you know," the ambassador told her.

Court Battle Hinted For Joan Davis Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The $1 million estate left by Comedienne Joan Davis is developing into a possible tug-of-war between her daughter and ex-husband.

Miss Davis, 48, died of a heart ailment May 23 at Palm Springs. Her daughter, Mrs. Beverly Willis Colbert, 27, was named special administrator of the estate last week after informing a judge that no will had been found. Under this arrangement the daughter could inherit the entire estate.

Now, Mrs. Colbert's father filed a petition to probate a 1941 will leaving everything to him. He is 51, 57, a former vaudeville comedian whom Miss Davis divorced in 1947.

Mrs. Colbert's attorney said he planned to contest the 1941 will on the grounds Willis and Miss Davis waived inheritance rights at the time of their divorce.

Hortonville Priest Celebrates Jubilee

Father Leo Przybylski Will Be Feted With Solemn Mass, Dinner, Reception

HORTONVILLE — The Rev. Leo Przybylski, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church since Feb. 28, 1958, will observe the silver anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood Sunday.

A solemn high mass will be offered at 11:30 a.m. with Father Przybylski as the celebrant, assisted by the Rev. Arnold Schmidt, of Darboy, as deacon and the Rev. John Baum, pastor of Corpus Christi Church, Sturgeon Bay, as sub-deacon. The Rev. William Hemauer, pastor of St. Mary Church, Luxemburg, will be the master of ceremonies.

These three priests were classmates of Father Leo and also celebrated their silver jubilee this month.

The jubilee sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Ted Koszarek, spiritual director at Sacred Heart Seminary, Oneida.

The mass will be sung by the mixed adult choir of the parish under the direction of Horton Roe, music instructor at Marquette University.

Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona will be present for the jubilee mass as well as for the 1 p.m. dinner for the visiting priests, nuns, relatives and out of town guests, served by the Christian Mothers and Altar Society of the parish at Community Hall.

A program has been arranged by Roe and the choir and dinner music will be arranged by pupils of Sister Mary Alice of the Maria High School, an all girl high school in Stevens Point. Sister Mary Alice is a sister of Father Leo.

A reception will begin at 3 p.m. May 21 the school children surprised the priest with a program in his honor at the Hortonville High School auditorium. The nuns were in charge of the program. He was presented a gift from all the students.

Father Przybylski was born July 29, 1909, at Pine Grove in Brown County. He attended St. Mary High School in Orchard Lake, Mich., and graduated from St. Norbert's College, West De Pere.

He studied theology at the grand seminary in Quebec, Canada, and completed his studies at St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee. He was ordained by Bishop Paul P. Rhode in St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Green Bay, June 3, 1936.

His first appointments were on July 1, 1936, as assistant in St. John parish, Menasha, and then at St. Peter parish, Stevens Point, where he stayed until July 1, 1941.

He received his first pastorate when he was transferred to St. John and a mission at Almond on Sept. 10, 1941. Father Leo received what was to be the longest assignment of his priesthood when he was named to Sacred Heart parish, Spruce, with a mission of St. Wenceslaus in Klon-

Atlas Explodes, Wrecks Launcher

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A recently completed "coffin" launcher—and the only one of its kind nearing combat readiness—was destroyed when an Atlas intercontinental missile blew up on its pad.

Observers heard two, and possibly three, sharp blasts as the powerful new "series E" Atlas disintegrated Wednesday amid sheets of orange flame. The missile was intended to soar 4,000 miles out over the Pacific.

There were no reports of injuries and the Air Force offered no detailed explanation of the blast.

The launcher was valued at $2 million. It was part of a complex of "coffin" type launchers here wherein the missiles are stored underground on their sides, protected by a sliding hangar from attack or sabotage. On signal, the hangar slides back and the missile is raised for fueling and firing.

Officials said the explosion would cause an indefinite delay in making the improved type of missile launcher operational.

He remained there until he was appointed to St. Peter and

Council Votes To Go Ahead With Sidewalks

Kaukauna Aldermen Over-Rule Objections From Residents

KAUKAUNA — The common council okayed installation of all sidewalks as set up in the works project earlier this year, despite objections from citizens in areas involved.

Objections were voiced at a Board of Public Works meeting on May 29. The board studied objections for a week, reconvened, and voted to recommend to the Council all installations as advertised. Property owners involved will be assessed 33 1/2 cents per square foot for 4-inch walk and 40 cents per square foot for 6-inch walk.

Streets Listed

Streets involved include Walter Street, N. Margaret Street, Idlewild Street, Gertrude Street, Lawe Street, W. Eighth Street, Eden Avenue, W. Ninth, W. Seventh, Sullivan Avenue, Tenth, Fourteenth, W. Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Main Avenue, Henry Street, Oakridge Avenue, Crooks Avenue, Boyd Avenue, Hillcrest Drive, Cleveland Avenue and Raught Street.

All property owners concerned will be notified of council action. Residents of Joyce Street submitted a petition to have sidewalk installation completed from Gertrude Street to Diedrich Street. Residents also requested proper surface drainage for the street through grading or whatever was necessary. The petition was received and placed on file.

Aldermen Fred Reichel and William Rogers of the Fifth ward attempted to have the west side of Cleveland Avenue deleted from the walk installation project, but were outvoted 8-2 by fellow aldermen.

Make Request

Residents in the vicinity of Joyce Street requested the council take action to clear up stagnant water in a low spot at the rear of homes on Joyce Street and attempt to solve the problem of blowing dust created by extensive grading in the area last year. Both requests were placed on file.

Council members approved the purchase of two power mowers from Weyers Implement Company at a cost of $1,200 each. Action was taken after it was pointed out that the mowers would facilitate proper maintenance of parks.

Board members adopted a resolution urging the County Board to support the County Highway Committee in its effort to have an engineering survey made for the proper location of a proposed highway to connect the Candee Street bridge in Appleton and Highway 55 in Kaukauna.

All Workers Need Social Security Cards for Jobs

"Planning on working this summer? Do you have a Social Security card? If not, you should act now by applying right away for a card," according to the Manager of the Appleton Social Security Office, Frank M. Donnick.

Many teenagers apply for summer or regular employment every June. Because employers require young people to show their social security card when applying for a job, many are forced to risk passing up a good job for lack of a card or have to scurry at the last minute to get one.

The Appleton Social Security Office advises all teenagers who are thinking of working this summer and who never had a social secur-

With the Closing of schools and the arrival of summer temperatures, the swimming pool at Doyle Park in Little Chute has been the center of attraction for village youngsters. The pool, formed by a lagoon of the Fox River, is the only place youngsters have for supervised swimming. Recently a citizens' committee has renewed a campaign to have the village construct its own municipal pool.

Winnebago Board

Committee Suggests Safety Improvements

OSHKOSH — Recommendations for improving traffic safety, including several changes in the Twin City area, were submitted by the sheriff and coroner committee at Tuesday afternoon's County Board session. The recommendations were passed on to the highway committee for action.

The sheriff and coroner committee last Friday went over suggestions submitted by the sheriff and county police and toured the county to view the sites.

Four places were proposed for installation of "No Passing Zone Ahead" signs, "Do Not Pass Signs" and yellow painted stripes. The signs would be on both sides of the roadway.

These are the entrance lanes from the divided 4-lane section to the 2-way section on U. S. 41 just south of State 26, both approaches to the U. S. 41 bridge over Lake Butte des Morts, the entrance from the 4-lane section to the 2-lane section on U. S. 41 just northeast of the U. S. 45 overpass and the southbound lane of U. S. 41 near Cecil Street in Neenah.

Widen Pendleton Curve

Also proposed were signs and a widening of the curve on State 114 at its Pendleton Road intersection near Neenah, widening of the right turn exit lane from U. S. 41 onto Cecil Street in Ne-nah and suitable signs facing traffic traveling onto U. S. 41 from Cecil Street indicating the proper direction of travel on U. S. 41. These signs would be erected along Cecil Street approaches to U. S. 41.

The committee also proposed 2-way traffic signs along the west end of County Trunk PP immediately north of the U. S. 41 underpass, that stop signs on State 110 be erected at the Grace Lutheran Church at Winchester for use during times of services and that suitable precautionary signs be erected at the intersection of State 110, State 116 and County Trunk GG east of Winneconne.

Erection of "No Parking" signs immediately north of the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks on U. S. 45 was also suggested.

Most Can't Travel on Roads

Midget-Sized Vehicles Must Have Equipment for Licensing

Midget-sized motor vehicles designed for use on private property are not being registered by the Motor Vehicle Department.

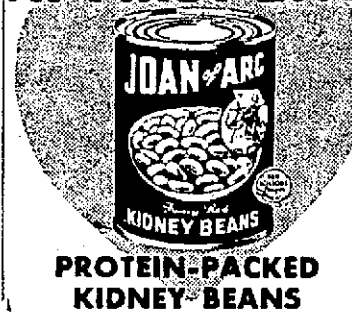

Many of these midget vehicles lack much of the equipment required on a licensed motor vehicle. The items most frequently lacking are proper brakes, a horn, a speedometer, a rear-view mirror, turn signals and a stop lamp.

Legal Ban

Whether the small vehicle is a hand-made cart or a manufactured vehicle, if it does not meet specifications set forth in the registration laws of Wisconsin, then such a vehicle cannot be licensed. Without a license, a motor vehicle cannot be driven legally on our streets and highways.

Another matter of concern in this problem is that of driver licensing. Wisconsin does not normally issue a driver's license for any person under 16 years of age. A mechanized cart or play vehicle certainly does not come within the scope of "required driving"

Five Sentenced For Burglaries Near Tigerton

Shawano Court Gives Probation, Prison Terms for Thefts

Two husband-wife teams and another man were sentenced to jail terms in Shawano Circuit Court for completely stripping furnishings from two homes in the Tigerton area Oct. 15, 1960. Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell gave two of the five additional terms for stealing four cattle from a barn near Tigerton March 7. A juvenile also was involved in the house burglaries. He will be processed through juvenile court.

Arnold Clausen, 39, route 1, Tigerton, admitted the two burglary charges and was sent to Waupun for two years. His wife, Alice Clausen, 35, also admitted the charges and was sentenced to two years at Taycheedah. Her sentence was stayed and she was placed on probation for three years.

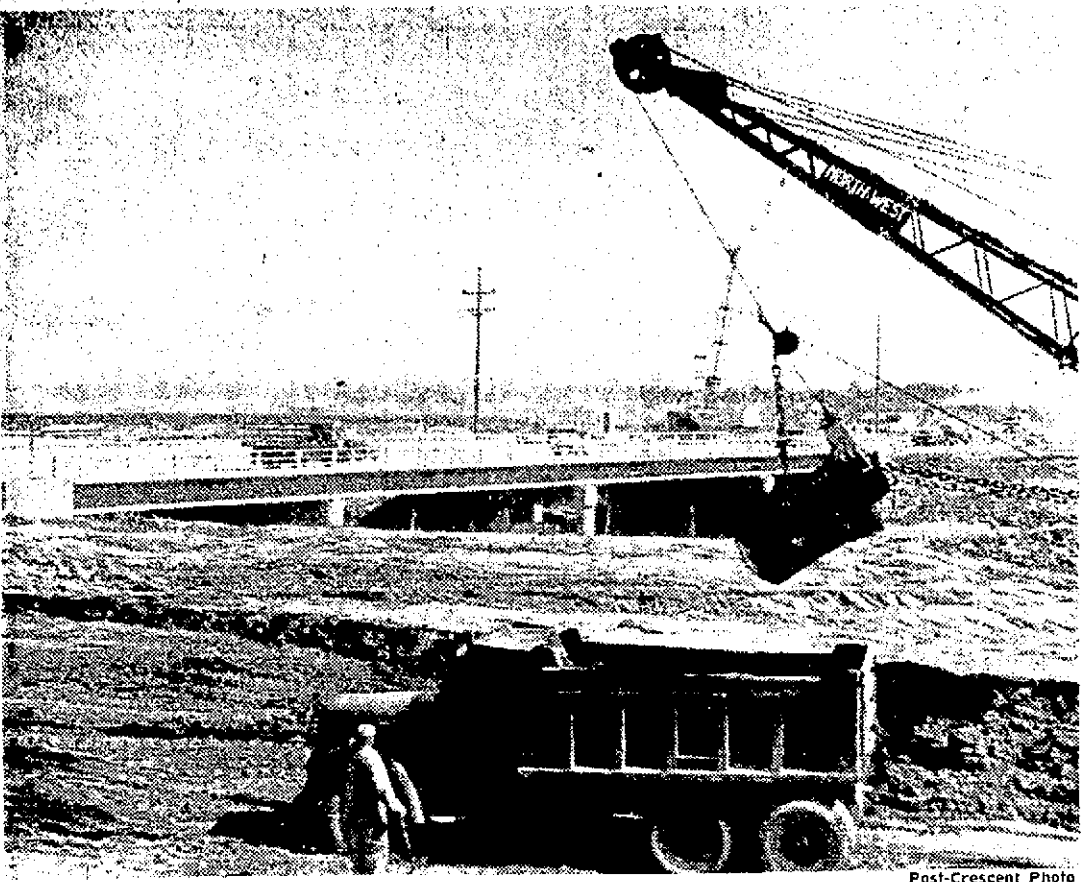

three years after a sentence of two years at Waupun was stayed. Bernice Hafner, 50, his wife, was involved in the cattle theft and the house thefts. She was sent to Taycheedah for two years. Bernice Hafner's partner in the cattle theft, Anthony Hafner, 56, route 2, Bryant, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to three charges. He was examined at Central State Hospital, Waupun, and found to be insane. He was returned to Central State, where he will stay until he can be returned to the court.

The quintet took almost all the belongings in the homes they ransacked. From the home of Leonard Lovo in the Town of Fairbanks they went as far as pulling up the wall to wall carpeting. They also got clothes, tools and furnishings.

Most of the loot from the Lovo home and from the home of W. Zellner in the Town of Morris was recovered. Shawano

Wrong Licenses Cost Fishermen Penalty

WAUPACA—Paul F. Scheckel, 34, 120 E. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton, Dale N. Meyer, 20, Marlon Alice Clausen, 35, also admitted the charges and was sentenced to 24, 1800 N. Ullman St., Appleton, each were fined $10 for fishing without a non-resident fishing license. None of them lived in Wisconsin a year before obtaining a resident license.

State 47 Now Runs over a new grade separating structure at new U. S. 41 a few miles north of Appleton. Previously a short detour carried traffic around the overhead structure, one of several on the new stretch of 41 from a point just north of U. S. 10 to near McCarty's crossing north of Kaukauna.

Calumet Board Will Review Plans for Courthouse Annex

CHILTON — A set of revised architectural plans for a courthouse annex will be presented for approval to the Calumet County Board when it meets here Monday.

Estimated construction costs of the plan of Ebling, Plunkett and Keymar, Milwaukee architects, range between $177,000 and $225,000, depending on the quality of building materials chosen and type of furnishings.

The plan was reviewed Saturday at a special meeting of the Public Grounds Committee with Circuit Judge Helmut F. Arps and County Judge D. H. Sebor. It received general but unofficial approval from the committee and Judge Arps.

The approval of the circuit judge is all-important since an old state statute gives the judge final power of approval.

Chances of approval of the trimmed down plan seem good with Public Grounds Committee members highly optimistic. Joe Depies Sr., New Holstein supervisor and committee chairman, said.

At its last session, the board tabled the annex issue indefinitely. Board members voiced intentions to wait until the court reorganization, which by increasing the jurisdiction and power of the County Court originally triggered the annex issue, becomes effective Jan. 1, 1962. Supervisors felt that at that time actual needs could be better determined and suggested that possibly remodeling of the existing building would serve the purpose. This line of thinking, however, has all but vanished, Depies said.

The trimmed plan provides about 9,000 square feet of floor space. Included in the annex would be only the courts and af-

Lawmaker, Negro Held at Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A white New York state assemblyman and a Negro companion were arrested today when they tried to desegregate facilities at the Jackson Municipal airport.

Meanwhile, a racially-mixed group of nine "freedom riders" was en route from New Orleans to again test "Jim Crow" barriers in the railroad terminal here.

The New York lawmaker, Mark Lane, 33, of Manhattan, and Percy Sutton, 40, president of a New York City branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were arrested almost immediately after they stepped off a Delta Airlines plane from Montgomery, Ala.

Sutton protested: "I'm a traveler in interstate commerce."

Police Capt. J. L. Ray ordered the two to leave the white men's waiting room. When they refused, he placed them under arrest.

Lane and Sutton had previously said they were curious travelers. Yesterday they were served without incident in a Montgomery bus terminal restaurant.

Police Find Beer Party; No Charges

OSHKOSH — Two Winnebago County policemen found about 100 young persons at a beer party in the Town of Nekimi shortly after 10 p.m. Wednesday. They checked every identification card and found that not one person was under the age of 18.

The policemen said there had been evidence of beer being there but a search failed to show any trace of the beer. It was raining quite hard at the time and the party was breaking up when police arrived.

Learning Made Fun by Combining Art, Social Studies

Lincoln School Students Create Large Mosaic of Linoleum Tile

Creative art and social studies were combined to develop the creation which was presented, with appropriate American folk music, to Principal Mrs. Bernice Ahlschwede. The mosaic will remain as a permanent class gift to the school. The children did most of the work themselves, using an assortment of tools, including nail clippers, files and tweezers.

Wade House, stagecoach inn at One girl found she could achieve a lacy effect for southern belles' dresses by using a paper punch in parallel lines and at Lincoln School decided to make a linoleum tile mosaic punch also was used for slaves' about "our country" and give it to the school as a permanent gift.

The whole class outlined the phases of history they felt should be covered, then divided into groups to work out details for parts of the project. Each group sketched with charcoal a plan on 24 by 36 inch paper.

Went West As their social studies course led them farther west in the story of America's growth, the children's ideas enlarged to include specific groups of people who contributed to the national heritage.

By the time they were ready to make the cartoon, a drawing on paper the size of the finished product, "The Story of Our Country" included colonists coming from Europe, the Pilgrims, Daniel Boone, the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner," slavery in the South, the Lewis and Clark expedition, pioneers moving westward and white men fighting the Indians.

The figures were drawn on a large map of the United States. Children Draw With the cartoon to guide them, the children reproduced the design on a 4 by 8 foot piece of pressed wood, first with chalk and then with felt pen.

Art coordinator Al Bennett helped the children cement the first tesserae, or pieces of tile to the board. Large tiles were cut into a variety of smaller shapes on the paper cutter, but the boys and girls developed their own devices for creating shapes. They were used together to make to suit their ideas — scissors, learning fun for a class of 10 nail clippers, files, and tweezers and 11-year-olds who became excited about a field trip to Old Greenbush, and wanted to record their feelings.

Major Turn Expected in U. S. Test Policy

Kennedy Hints at Possible End to Nation's Moratorium

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to announce soon a major turn in policy on U. S. atomic tests long under a self-imposed moratorium.

Authoritative sources indicated the new policy, shaping up as a result of the apparent failure of the Geneva test talks, will be to resume underground U. S. nuclear explosions if this serves the national interest.

At the same time these sources said, the United States would continue to attend the long drawn out Geneva conference as long as the Soviets want to talk there.

Not Bound The United States would not necessarily proceed with A-bombs but would not regard itself as bound by a moratorium because the talks were still continuing, it was stated.

Kennedy hinted at a change in his speech Tuesday night reporting on his Vienna meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. When he entered office, the President promised to make one more sincere try at reaching a test ban agreement at the Geneva conference which started in November 1958.

The Soviets have rebuffed western proposals this spring. Kennedy said no hope emerged from his talk with Khrushchev. Rather, he said, the Soviet leader made clear his insistence on a Red veto for test ban control machinery and other conditions unacceptable to the West. Kennedy said the Geneva negotiations "appeared futile."

Questioned by a newsman after his speech, Kennedy said he would have a statement to make later.

Technically, the United States has been free to resume testing since President Eisenhower lifted a moratorium at the end of 1959. However all three of the atomic powers at the Geneva talks—the Soviet Union, Britain and the United States—have followed a no testing policy since the parley began in 1958.

Pentagon and Atomic Energy Commission advocates of further development of the U. S. atomic arsenal have chafed under the moratorium, claiming the Soviets may be conducting sneak tests while the Geneva talks drag on.

Columnist Discusses Clothing, Praises Women of Modest Dress

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — I do not know much about women's clothes and care less. Presumably clothes are designed to cover the body, to provide warmth and to be decorative. It is possible to devote so much time and attention to clothes as to be all consuming. This is a matter of taste, to usually made by British dressmakers to keep the home fires burning.

Excellent Example In fact, Queen Elizabeth sets an excellent example for all women by her devotion to duty, by her recognition of the responsibilities of her singular position, and by the simplicity of her life.

But then, she was to the manner born and another spangle in no way affects her position or the esteem in which she is held. Actually her mother's clothes seem dowdy compared to those of American women who bring their things into the country at $1,000 or $2,000 a skirt. Her grandmother was notorious for the simplicity of her dress but famous for her sacrifices for her country.

Women Absorbed Dressmakers are both female and male as their drivers' licenses can prove. But the fact is that it is the absorption of women with dress and style and hair-dos that keeps a great industry going and surely David Dubinsky, who dominates both labor and capital in such matters, is happy that we live in an era when women look upon dresses as of equal importance with the national defense.

It keeps the sewing machines going and the designers active. And when it comes to equality of opportunity, Seventh Avenue in New York battles against the dressmakers in Paris.

Neither Mrs. Herbert Hoover nor Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was much concerned about her clothes. They had other things to think about. In fact, Mrs. Roosevelt has developed into such a great personality since she has been widowed that one wonders whether it may not be possible that she was more shrewd than her husband.

Certainly she has made a place for herself, irrespective of her late husband, and whether one adores her as many do, or flouts her, as some do, no one can ignore her.

Of Mrs. Harry Truman it can be said that she was true to her character and did not permit the presidency to affect her. She remained given any unconstitutional titles. She eschewed prominence, undoubtedly feeling that it was bad enough to have one such in the family. However, when daughter Margaret grew up she took to singing and everybody sympathized with her except a nasty critic or two who spoke ill of her efforts.

Margaret behaved modestly and did not abuse her White House prerogatives. She came through the ordeal of being a President's daughter without in any way lessening the people's respect for her. She was married to an American newspaperman. They are living happily ever after and avoid being noted in the gossip columns which naturally a sound newspaperman would do.

Of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower it can be said that she took the job of being the President's wife seriously and did as well as her poor health and her husband's ailments permitted. To the public, she appeared to be an affectionate daughter and a loyal wife and grandmother.

Neither Mamie nor her daughter-in-law bothered much about clothes and hair-dos or even about furniture. Both ladies came out of the White House well-thought of by the people of their country who knew nothing of them until Ike became President and may know style of the day.

State Welfare Program Faces Challenges

Legislature Gets Report on Problems Facing Department

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Costly extensions of state welfare institution services are listed as "challenges" that the state must try to answer during the next two years, in a report filed with the legislature by the state department of public welfare.

Included on the list is the development of an educational program at the state mental hospitals for the increasing number of adolescent and teen-age patients there.

The welfare administration also gave high priority to the evolution of new types of useful employment for inmates of penal and correctional institutions, where the major work projects and enterprises have been unchanged for decades.

agency which is one of the biggest spenders in the state government, and which has had a constantly increasing cost problem during the last decade.

The report made it plain that there is no hope for a reduction or a stabilization in the department's huge budget of expenditures, and that the prospect, instead, is for increases in outlays at an accelerated pace.

Neenah Committee Asks Property Reassessment

Council Authorities Group To Interview Appraisal Firms, Get Cost Estimates

NEENAH — Reassessment of Neenah property has been recommended by the common council's reassessment committee and the council Wednesday night gave the committee authorization to interview appraisal firms and obtain cost estimates of a reassessment.

Eight reasons were cited by the committee supporting a reassessment of Neenah property.

1. It has been 26 years since the last reassessment and costs and values have changed. Neenah's rate of 36.77 per cent is third lowest in state.
2. Values of older properties are hard to determine and it is difficult to keep all properties on a comparable basis.
3. True values may have declined or increased and such changes are not sufficiently reflected in assessment figures.
4. The city assessor's staff is too small to reappraise all city property.
5. Wide discrepancy between true values and assessment figures makes it difficult for property owners to determine accuracy of their assessments.
6. If the school district reorganizes into a unified district, bonded debt of city would be beyond statute limit.
7. Unless assessed value is raised to figure closer to full value, the state may order reassessment, with the city having no voice in selection of firm.
8. There are now pending seven-berg High School which has made a reputation for itself in the nation because of its outstanding achievements in the two organizations.

GREEN LAKE — A brother-sister combination heading state rural organizations was created here today when Dorothy Hagen, Wittenberg, was elected state president of the Future Homemakers of America.

Her brother, Orwall, is state president of the Future Farmers of America. Both come from Wittenberg High School which has made a reputation for itself in the nation because of its outstanding achievements in the two organizations.

First Combination

This was the first such combination in the two groups' history. Other officers from the Fox Cities area elected were Shirley Karls, Chilton, state historian vice president of District 4, covering northeastern Wisconsin, is Nancy Ann Schaublen, Wrightsboro, Wis., state president of the Future Farmers of America. Editor of the district is Sharon Pareziak, Crivitz.

New project adopted by the sponsoring unit, the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, was Appreciate Wisconsin. Last year's project was Food for the Shrewd.

Bond Issue Bid

Late Call Saves Oshkosh $21,000 in Interest Cost

OSHKOSH — A late telephone call to New York and an "under the wire" bid saved the city of Oshkosh $21,000 in interest costs Wednesday.

Boyd Jordan, New American Bank president, had been contacted by the investment syndicate headed by Phelps, Penn and Co. of New York previously regarding the Oshkosh $3-125,000 bond bid.

When nothing more was heard from the New York firm, Jordan called Wednesday morning to see if the firm still was interested. Representatives said the firm was interested and would have a bid ready in several hours Jordan pointed out that the bid opening was set for 11 a.m.

At 10:45 a.m. he received a telephone call giving the details of the bid.

By 11 a.m. he was at the council chambers with the bid filled out and the cashier's check required for $62,500 accompanying the bid.

Phelps, Penn and Co. and the 10 firms associated with it had the low net interest rate of 3.266 per cent and a total interest cost of $1,264,115, which was about $21,000 lower than the second low bid.

Council President Robert Stauffer called the rate "quite good."

Scout Leaders at Menasha Claim 'Pressure' Put Them Out of Park

MENASHA — Two Girl Scout leaders, objecting to a form of psychological pressure causing them to leave their picnic area, Wednesday applied some pressure of their own — on Mayor John Klein and several aldermen.

What began as a picnic supper to end the year's calendar for Girl Scout Troop 131, Clover Grove School, turned into an early departure of the women and 13 scouts Tuesday afternoon in the west end of Jefferson Park, the recreational equipment area.

The pressure, according to Mrs. Richard Slack and Mrs. Ralph Mueller, the troop's co-leaders, came when a number of vehicles of a transient carnival drove over the park grass and surrounded the scouts while at supper. The transients alighted from their vehicles and stood about the picnic area, watching the women and girls eat.

Children Upset
Mrs. Mueller said the transients, "stood within 10 feet of our tables staring at us. That didn't have the effect they wanted. It angered us. The children were terribly upset."

Mrs. Mueller reported she tried to find out who gave permission to the carnival to move into the park two days before authorized, but "it was like a football tossed back and forth." She said one park and recreation board member told her the council was to give permission and an alderman had said the park and recreation board was to give or withhold permission.

The carnival moved in Tuesday afternoon. The council Tuesday night issued a picnic permit to the Polish Falcons Athletic Association.

Took Over Spot
Mrs. Slack said as soon as we moved (from their picnic tables), they took over the spot we were in. I feel it's terrible that a troop of Girl Scouts going into a city park is put out by a carnival. I feel I'll have to wait from now until next week before I let my children go to the park."

Mrs. Slack also pointed out

Cyclist, 10, Crashes Into Rear of Truck

NEENAH — A 10-year old Neenah girl was injured at 4 p.m. Wednesday when her bicycle ran into the rear of a truck parked in front of the Neenah post office.

Deborah Zielinski, 218 Loper Court, was treated for bruises at Theda Clark Hospital and released. Operator of the truck, Berton R. Schroeder, 32, route 1, Neenah, said he was sitting in the truck and heard a thump. When he got out he saw the girl laying on the street.

Set Sights High, Develop Discipline, Graduates Told

Knowles Gives NHS Seniors Success Guides

NEENAH — "Set your sights high," Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles told Neenah High School graduates Wednesday night. "Don't let the high cost of education or the stiff competition of getting into the college of your choice keep you from finding a way to advance your education."

Speaking before the largest graduating class in Neenah history—263—Knowles said the students stand at the frontier of "a world full of unlimited opportunities."

He listed what he called "guidelines to success" for youths to day. They are, he said, the power to think for oneself, willingness to work, initiative, thrift and perseverance.

Natural Power
The power to think is a natural power with which you are all endowed, Knowles said. "Thinking is not something you find in a library, laboratory, classroom, or examination. Thinking goes with living."

Secondly, he said, you can obtain nothing in this world without good, hard, honest work. "In my opinion, in the rush for success and in our hurry to get ahead, too little importance is placed on being able to work hard and tirelessly."

Knowles deplored the philosophy that "the world owes me a living" and urged the graduates to plan and save for their retirement. "Don't ever get into a position where you feel that the government will provide in a fatherly manner. There are no funds in the government that do not come from taxpayers."

See Life Through
"I also suggest," Knowles said, "you carry with you perseverance, the willingness to stick to it, to see life through."

"Your future is in your hands to do with what you will," he concluded.

Kathleen Ryan and David Hanson represented the graduates. Miss Ryan said the 12 years of school completed served as a preparatory phase which would better enable each class member to face the future. "A future which

The Rev. Lawrence Stingle, pastor, St. Gabriel Catholic Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Create Metropolitan Status

Appleton, Kimberly to Have Common Line

Appleton is one short step away from being a metropolitan city in the technical sense of the word.

Up to this time it has been metropolitan in many respects, but had no common boundaries with any of the other three cities and three villages in the Fox Cities complex.

In two weeks the city council is expected to give second reading and final passage to an ordinance that will annex 194.35 acres between Appleton and Kimberly.

The ordinance passed its first reading Wednesday night.

After final passage, the boundaries of the two communities will become contiguous at a point, joining them into a metropolitan area in the technical sense.

Common boundaries already exist between Kimberly and Combined Locks and Little Chute and Kaukauna.

The point at which Appleton and Kimberly will be joined is at the south right-of-way line of Newberry Street, at the west village limits of Appleton.

The 194.35 acres to be annexed is bounded by the Fox River on the north, Newberry Street on the north, Trunk Z1 on the south, and the City of Appleton on the west.

The east boundary is a short distance from Kimberly's west limit, except at the point south of Newberry Street where the two communities will have contiguous boundaries.

Appleton's population will grow by about 50 persons, including children. The petition to annex was signed by 26 persons, 25 of whom are both owners and electors in the area. The area will become part of the 13th Ward.

Most of the land is in the development stage, and is owned by Land Associates, Inc., and Lerco, Inc., both of Appleton.

Appleton's Board of Education has asked for a 9½-acre site in the area, for an elementary school.

Chilton Youth Dies Swimming At Whitewater

Edward Millay, 21, Drowns Attempting To Reach Lake Island

WHITEWATER — Edward Millay, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond "Pat" Millay, 819 S. Madison St., Chilton, and a student at Whitewater State College, drowned in Whitewater Lake about 10 miles southeast of here shortly before midnight Wednesday.

His body was recovered from about eight feet of water by Whitewater police about 9.16 a.m. today.

He was a member of seven Whitewater students swimming in the lake Wednesday. He was attempting to swim to an island about 500 feet from shore when he cried out for help.

Attempted Rescue

Frank Weyenberg, a fellow student, grabbed Millay, but he was pulled under and had to let go. Police were called and about 1 a.m. dragging operations were started.

Millay was considered an expert swimmer. Sheriff Pat Welch of Walworth County said it is believed Millay either became entangled in weeds or suffered a cramp. Sheriff Welch said the water was very cold.

Millay was born Dec. 8, 1939, in Chilton. After graduating from Chilton High School he served two years in the Army before enrolling at Whitewater in January.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters. The Pfeffer Funeral Home, Chilton, is making funeral arrangements.

Fresh, New Talent Set For Hackneyed Series

Comedians Capable of Blank-Verse
Comedy to Star in Situation Plot

BY JINGO

With the reruns hobbling along in all of their summertime glory, it may be a good idea to look beyond the stopgaps to the fare on the back burner set for next season — or, in some cases, a little sooner.

One slot won't have a rerun this summer, Jack Benny's CBS Sunday half hour he so jealously guarded every week this season. Not only will the slot be protected during the summer with a new show, the show may be the "best" put together this year.

The stars will be the phenomenal team of Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, who crossed the Canadian border to bring blank-verse comedy to Ed Sullivan's show.

Wayne and Shuster are not an ordinary team. They have been together since they were Boy Scouts in Toronto and wrote and starred in a sketch that netted the troop $40.

They stuck together through college, radio and special services in the armed forces. Success did not become spectacular until TV and then it came big.

Their material has a certain style. Their hits are "Lost Comic-book Weekend," "I Was a TV Ad-dict," "The Brown Pumpernick-

Lana Turner Back at MGM For Hope Film

Actress Started At Studio 23 Years Ago, Left in 1955

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lana Turner is back at MGM to pick up her pension and finish off an association that began in 1938.

"Twenty-three years!" she exclaimed. "I should be creaking."

She isn't. She is as svelte and stunning as ever. Her return to MGM is a sentimental journey, since that is where she grew up and flourished in an era when the studio was the capital of glamor. She is the sole member of that glittering troupe (Garbo, Crawford, Shearer, Garland, Garson, etc.) who is still a top draw in films.

Wonderful Days
"Those were wonderful times," Lana remarked, "especially the early years and during the war. That was when L. B. Mayer was running the place."

"Then there was a change in administrations, and I wasn't too happy. They were making message pictures, and I didn't exactly fit into them."

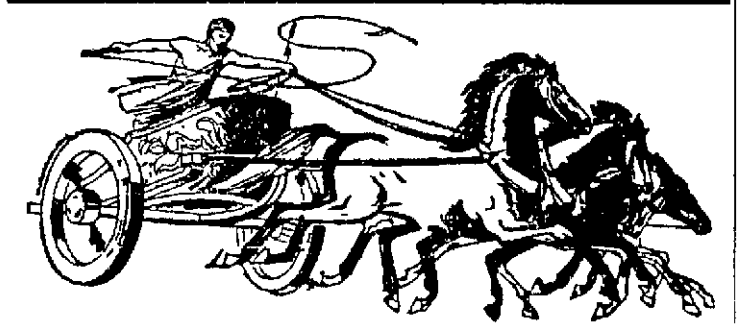

"I was so desperate to get out that I would have promised them anything," she recalled. "Finally we agreed that I would do a picture a year for five years at a very low figure."

"That was in 1955, and now I'm doing the first—and last—picture under the deal. Every year I worried that they would pre-empt other pictures I was doing, but they never did. I guess maybe the stockholders finally complained that the studio was losing money by not using me. So here I am."

"Bachelor in Paradise"
There she is with Bob Hope in "Bachelor in Paradise," a comedy (what else?) about an author who moves into a San Fernando Valley tract and researches sex habits of the natives. Lana likes working with Bob; her only regret is that she doesn't get some of the laugh lines, too.

There is balm despite the fact she is working at a fraction of her usual take.

"By finishing off the contract, I get to collect what I had left in the MGM pension fund—$92,000," said the country's prettiest pensioner.

Power Co. Explains Effect of Rate Hike

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.'s first increase in electric rates in 11 years will raise electric bills for homeowners about 8% per cent, the utility said today.

An Appleton homeowner who used 200 kilowatt hours a month and paid $5.88 will pay 42 cents more. One who used 300 kilowatt hours in a month will pay 58 cents more. A homeowner who used 1,000 kilowatt hours and paid $20.58 will pay $22.30 under the new rate schedule.

The special "off-peak" water heating rate was increased 3.44 per cent. Water heating under the new rate will cost a customer who uses 500 kilowatt hours 20 cents more a month.

Farmers who use 1,000 kilowatt hours a month and paid $25.30 will pay $27.10 under the new rate. Farmers who use 2,000 or more kilowatt hours per month will pay less under the new rate than they did under the old.

Commercial Increase
Rates for commercial, industrial and municipal services were also increased.

In announcing details of the new rates, the utility noted that the last increase in its electric rates was in 1949.

"Since that time, we have absorbed the increase in costs for transformers, poles, wire and labor by increasing our efficiency," R. E. Williams, commercial division manager, said. "While the cost of living has increased 50 per cent and the consumer has had to pay more for everything else he bought, we kept his cost for electricity down. We're pretty proud that this increase is such a small one," Williams added.

Heat Rates Down
The elimination of a "capacity" charge for electric space heating will more than offset the increase in the residential rate for most of the 100 Appleton area residents who heat with electricity.

One such customer paid $130 last year for electricity for refrigeration, cooking, lighting, TV, and other items. He paid an ad-

Nelson Picks Two New Men For Air Board

Television Newsmen, Postmaster Named to Replace Republicans

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov. Nelson today picked a Green Bay television news editor and a Monroe County postmaster as new members of the Aeronautics Commission.

The governor sent to the state senate for confirmation the nominations of Donald Love, a 32-year-old television executive and a licensed private pilot, and Ted Cole of Cashon, a postmaster.

Replace Republicans

They are intended to succeed Dr. L. O. Simonstad of Osceola and Douglas A. Taylor, Rhinelander, holdover members of previous Republican state administrations on the board of directors of the state aeronautics department of which T. K. Jordan is executive officer.

The department has gradually increased in size and scope of work during recent years as local airport construction projects and improvements have been spurred by an enlarged program of federal aids. The state department acts as agent for the localities in handling federal aid funds, and also provides engineering and other consultant service.

Three months ago the governor asked the legislature to permit a member of his staff to sit as a non-voting member of the aviation board, as a means of relating state airport planning policies to state population and economic trends.

The proposal indirectly suggested some criticism of the past performance of the board, which has been headed by Dr. Simonstad as chairman.

Love is 32, a native of Wisconsin Rapids, and has been employed by Green Bay Station WBAY-TV for the last six years. His wife is the former Joyce Hauert of Appleton.

Cole has been Cashon postmaster since 1934. He served with the postal service of the U. S. Army during World War II.

Schunk, acting deputy coroner for Outagamie County, will also be present, as will Drs. James W. Eichel and Pearse Meighan, Appleton pathologists.

Tipsy Drivers Pay Fines

Waupaca Man Fails To Appear to Answer Charges

Harley E. Witzke, 40, 26 E. Second St., Clintonville, was found guilty of drunken driving by Justice Harold Hedtke and fined $100. Witzke's driver's license was revoked for a year.

Witzke was arrested by the Clintonville police May 19 and denied drunken driving at his first court appearance. He reappeared in court before Hedtke on June 1. Hedtke took the case under advisement and gave his decision Wednesday.

Bert L. Omitt, 41, Waupaca, forfeited a $125 bond when he failed to appear in Shawano Municipal Court to answer a charge of drunken driving. Omitt's license was revoked for a year.

Bergstrom Museum Receives Donation

NEENAH — The executive committee of the John Nelson Bergstrom Museum Community Association has contributed $100 to the art reference library of the museum. The money will be used to buy both books and periodicals.

Charles Brooks, curator of the museum, said.

Anyone who wishes to contribute magazines or books on art, antiques, glass, sculpture or art news may contact Mrs. Richard Thieckens, 360 Park St., Menasha, or the museum office.

The executive committee announced that Mrs. Charles Buchanan, Appleton, has been appointed co-chairman of the program committee with Miss Fran-

Councilmen Save Trees in Oshkosh Street Widening

OSHKOSH — Four trees between the sidewalk and curb were trees. The rest of the street will be given a reprieve Wednesday night. How long the trees will continue as the Oshkosh Council bowed to the wishes of the residents along to live, no one would guess.

Merritt Avenue. The trees will not be removed suggested getting a go to make room for the widening of the street. Council members voted not to look at the trees and advise whether the trees had long to live, but the council decided to keep the Vernon Street and the Chicago trees anyway, even thought the and North Western Railroad trees might live a few years longer tracks to 30 feet but to keep that.

Merritt Avenue residents have been upset over the long period the street was torn up for utility and sewer work, and over the $3 per foot assessment for concrete paving, the first resurfacing the street has had in several decades. "It will be good public relations if we let them keep the trees," Robert Stauffer, council president, remarked.

Other committee appointments are Mrs. John Witterding, membership, and Mrs. Ben H. Drew and James Auer, publicity. Mrs. Frederic O. Leech and Mrs. Gordon Hardie are co-chairmen of the recently formed activities and art class committee.

Manager Named For WHBY, WBAY, Radio, TV

Abbot S. M. Killeen, O.Praem., of St. Norbert Abbey, announced the appointment of the Rev. I. M. Gosz, O.Praem., as managing director of WBAY, A.M., P.M., and TV, Green Bay and WHBY, Appleton, succeeding the Rev. M. J. Beemster, O.Praem., who held the position since 1947. The appointment is effective July 1. The Norbertine Fathers own the station.

In November, 1960, WBAY returned to FM broadcasting after a lapse of several years. At the present time, plans are being made for an 1,150 foot tower-antenna to be used by WBAY-TV. The station now uses a 750-foot tower.

Father Gosz was appointed the first business manager of St. Norbert College in June, 1948. At the same time, he was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Norbertine Order, a position he will retain. The college administration will announce a new business manager in a few days.

Father Gosz taught at St. Norbert High School and St. Norbert College before assuming his duties as the college business manager. He is a member of the board of administration of the college as well as a member of the college athletic committee.

His work at Northwestern will be for a period of 10 weeks.

Council Orders Laterals Installed For Water, Sewer

Property owners along portions of four Appleton streets are being ordered to have sewer and water laterals installed within 20 days, or the city will have the work done and assess the property.

The council passed a resolution Wednesday, ordering the laterals on Owassa Street, from Longview Drive to Northland Avenue; Brookdale Court, from Pershing Street to Longview Drive; Longview from Owassa to Ullman Streets; and Linwood Avenue, from Glendale Avenue to Marquette Street.

If the property is assessed the cost can be paid in five annual installments, with interest at 6 per cent a year.

Notice to the Public!

SECTION 12.11. ## Want Ad Information

Closing Time
Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Mondays—Before noon Saturdays.

Corrections or Cancellations

Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication.
IMPORTANT
Composition—costs will be charged if an ad is cancelled before publication.
After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.
When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days an advertisement is published determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments

The Appleton Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates.
All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad.
Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which make the advertisement less valuable, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

NOTICE

The Appleton Post-Crescent is exercising all precautions to prevent any fraudulent or misleading advertising. However, if any ad appearing in the classified columns of the Post-Crescent can be proven fraudulent or misleading, we would appreciate your informing us immediately.
